Participation and Media Production Nico Carpentier, Benjamin De Cleen, 2009-05-27 In an era when especially new media are celebrated for their participatory potential questions about the nature and intensity of these participatory processes seem to be superfluous But raising these questions pushes us into a critical mode towards the changes that have lead to the present day media landscape This volume s authors aim to activate this critical mode and reflect on the participatory nature of contemporary media organizations and products In order to stand even a remote chance to realize this objective and to critically unravel the societal role of participation we need to acknowledge that participation is a complex and contested notion covering a wide variety of meanings and practices that are converging into a hybrid of technologies genres and formats At the same time prudence is required as many of the empowering and transformative opportunities cover up a multitude of restrictions that deal with muting voices appropriations techniques of surveillance inequalities and exclusions This volume thus provides its readership with a set of analyses that reconcile the appreciation for the analogue and digital empowerment and emancipation with the critical analysis of their boundaries Participation and Media Production is the result of the intellectual work of the participants of the 2007 San Francisco Conference of the International Communication Association ICA

Participation and Media Production Nico Carpentier, Benjamin De Cleen, 2008 In an era when especially new media are celebrated for their participatory potential questions about the nature and intensity of these participatory processes seem to be superfluous But raising these questions pushes us into a critical mode towards the changes that have lead to the present day media landscape This volume TM s authors aim to activate this critical mode and reflect on the participatory nature of contemporary media organizations and products In order to stand even a remote chance to realize this objective and to critically unravel the societal role of participation we need to acknowledge that participation is a complex and contested notion covering a wide variety of meanings and practices that are converging into a hybrid of technologies genres and formats At the same time prudence is required as many of the empowering and transformative opportunities cover up a multitude of restrictions that deal with muting voices appropriations techniques of surveillance inequalities and exclusions This volume thus provides its readership with a set of analyses that reconcile the appreciation for the analogue and digital empowerment and emancipation with the critical analysis of their boundaries Participation and Media Production is the result of the intellectual work of the participants of the 2007 San Francisco Conference of the International Communication Association ICA

Understanding Community Media Kevin Howley, 2010 With original contributions from an international team of well known experts media activists and promising young scholars this comprehensive volume examines community media from theoretical empirical historical and practitioner perspectives Organized thematically this collection explores the intersection between community media and issues of democratic theory and the public sphere cultural politics and social movement theory neoliberal communication policy and media reform efforts as well as media activism and international solidarity building Foregrounding the relationship between symbolic and material relations of power in an increasingly interdependent world this collection examines the role of alternative independent and community based media in the global struggle for communicative democracy Understanding Community Media explores a wide range of media forms and practice Each essay considers the particular and distinctive ways local populations make use of various technologies for purposes of community communication Taken together this distinctive collection provides an incisive and timely analysis of the relationship between media and society technology and culture and communication and community Features more than 35 original cutting edge essays Provides a comprehensive overview of community media around the world including essays on women s video collectives in India indigenous radio in Colombia street newspapers in Canada and independent media in Nigeria Makes a timely and important contribution to a burgeoning sub field of media and cultural studies

Electronic Participation Ann Macintosh, Efthimios Tambouris, 2009-08-24      Audience

Transformations Nico Carpentier, Kim Christian Schröder, Lawrie Hallett, 2013-07-31 The concept of the audience is changing In the twenty first century there are novel configurations of user practices and technological capabilities that are altering the way we understand and trust media organizations and representations how we participate in society and how we construct our social relations This book embeds these transformations in a societal cultural technological ideological economic and historical context avoiding a naive privileging of technology as the main societal driving force but also avoiding the media centric reduction of society to the audiences that are situated within Audience Transformations provides a platform for a nuanced and careful analysis of the main changes in European communicational practices and their social cultural and technological affordances
