show a desert landscape of dust and rock The differences are imperceptible between one photo and the next Only on closer inspection do we notice the minimal shifts in the frame The small square Cartesian coordinate systems on the photos suggest moon bearing little resemblance to the common imagery framing the moon landings as heroic accomplishments By closely scrutinizing the appropriated images Rigolini transforms the nASA photographs from documentary material into artworks that tap into mans eternal musings on the mythological and symbolic sides of the moon After MASK and Private Used AS 15
