globalization State of the World s Forests published biennially provides a global view of major developments affecting forests The theme for the 2009 edition is Society forests and forestry adapting for the future The 2007 issue reviewed Progress s Forests 2009 places more emphasis on the demand side What will be the impact on forests of future increases in global population economic development and globalization Is the explosion in global trade having positive or negative effects on the world s forests Will the forest sector continue to have a major role in providing livelihoods for rural communities This eighth edition looks forward Part One summarizes the outlook for forests and forestry in each region of the world FAO periodically carries out regional forest sector outlook studies in collaboration with countries and organizations in each region The results of studies for all regions are summarized and presented here for the first time in a single publication A main pattern that emerges is a strong correlation between economic development and the state of forests. Countries that are undergoing rapid economic growth tend to struggle with immense pressures on their forests. In contrast, regions that have already achieved a high level of economic development are usually able to stabilize or increase their forest area. However, the factors affecting forests are numerous and complex, making it difficult to draw simple conclusions or to make reliable projections. Part Two considers how forestry will have to adapt for the future. It begins with a global outlook for wood products demand to 2030, noting changing patterns in production, consumption, and trade. Next, a chapter on environmental services of forests probes the various market and non-market mechanisms evolving to help forests and trees fulfill their environmental service functions of land, water, and biodiversity protection, carbon storage, and others. A look at progress in institutional adaptation notes that many forestry institutions are having difficulty in adapting to rapid changes in communications, globalisation, and society's expectations. Those institutions that are willing and able to adapt are more likely to be successful in the future. Finally, Part Two examines developments in science and technology which will continue to have an enormous impact on the future of forests and forestry. Imagine a world in which trees are a major source of fuel for cars, replacing oil. Only a few years ago this seemed like fantasy, but today the possibility must be seriously considered. Illinois Register, 1995. African Higher Education. Damtew Teferra, Philip G. Advanced Macromedia ColdFusion MX 7 Application Development. Ben Forta, 2005. With a slew of advanced new features, ColdFusion MX 7 represents both an opportunity and a challenge for those developing Web apps with it. The opportunity, of course, lies in taking their applications to new and increasingly sophisticated levels. The challenge is digging deep enough into ColdFusion to discover the features and techniques that will take them there. In these pages, Ben Forta and the Macromedia team have made this information not only accessible but also easily digestible for intermediate and advanced ColdFusion developers. Users won't want to waste any time before getting down to the serious business of unraveling ColdFusion's new features so that they can use Structured Business Reports to deliver business data in an understandable format, deploy the ColdFusion language in mobile phones, and instant messaging clients, build rich multistep data entry forms, use Enterprise Manager to cluster multiple ColdFusion servers on a single machine, and more.
