Routledge Handbook of Risk Studies Adam Burgess, Alberto Alemanno, Jens Zinn, 2016-03-31 It is over 40 years since we began to reflect upon risk in a more social than technological and economic fashion firstly making sense of the gap between expert and public assessment of risks such as to our health and environment With fixed certainties of the past eroded and the technological leaps of big data ours is truly an age of risk uncertainty and probability from Google's algorithms to the daily management of personal lifestyle risks Academic reflection and research has kept pace with these dizzying developments but remains an intellectually fragmented field shaped by professional imperatives and disciplinary boundaries from risk analysis to regulation and social research This is the first attempt to draw together and define risk studies through a definitive collection written by the leading scholars in the field It will be an indispensable resource for the many scholars students and professionals engaging with risk but lacking a resource to draw it all together

Direct Payments and Personal Budgets Jon Glasby, Rosemary Littlechild, 2016-01-13 In the context of the Care Act 2014 this third edition of the leading textbook on personalisation considers key policy changes since 2009 and new research into the extension and outcomes of personal budgets Direct payments and personal budgets have developed rapidly transforming the whole of adult social care In future all care will be delivered via a personal budget with direct payments as the default rather than the exception As the concepts have spread from adult social care to other sectors the changes have been controversial and difficult to implement Front line practitioners and people using services have struggled to make sense of these ways of working in a challenging financial and policy context This accessible textbook is essential reading for students practitioners and policy makers in social work and community care services
