Copyright Office, 1979 Criminology Eamon Carrabine, Pam Cox, Isabel Crowhurst, Anna Di Ronco, Pete Fussey, Anna Sergi, Nigel South, Darren Thiel, Jackie Turton, 2020-03-24 Comprehensive critical and accessible Criminology A Sociological Introduction offers an authoritative overview of the study of criminology from early theoretical perspectives to pressing contemporary issues such as the globalisation of crime, crimes against the environment, terrorism and cybercrime. Authored by an internationally renowned and experienced group of authors in the Department of Sociology at the University of Essex this is a truly international criminology text that delves into areas that other texts may only reference. It includes substantive chapters on the following topics Histories of crime, Theoretical approaches to crime and the issue of social change, Victims and victimisation, Crime, emotion and social psychology, Drugs, alcohol, health and crime, Criminal justice and the sociology of punishment, Green criminology, Crime and the media, Terrorism, state crime and human rights. The new edition fuses global perspectives in criminology from the contexts of post Brexit Britain and America in the age of Trump and from the Global South. It contains new chapters on cybercrime, crimes of the powerful, organised crime, life course approaches to understanding delinquency and desistance, and futures of crime control and criminology. Each chapter includes a series of critical thinking questions, suggestions for further study and a list of useful websites and resources. The book also contains a glossary of the criminological terms and concepts used in the book. It is the perfect text for students looking for a broad, critical and international introduction to criminology and it is essential reading for those looking to expand their criminological imagination Hydrometeorology Kevin Sene,2015-12-09 This second edition explores some of the latest techniques used to provide forecasts for a wide range of water related applications in areas such as floods droughts water resources and environmental impacts The practical uses can range from decisions on whether to issue a flood warning through to providing longer term advice such as on when to plant and harvest crops or how to operate reservoirs for water supply and hydropower schemes It provides an introduction to the topic for practitioners and researchers and useful background for courses in areas such as civil engineering water resources meteorology and hydrology As in the first edition the first section considers topics such as monitoring and forecasting techniques demand forecasting and how forecasts are interpreted when issuing warnings or advice Separate chapters are now included for meteorological and catchment monitoring techniques allowing a more in depth discussion of topics such as weather radar and water quality observations The chapters on meteorological and hydrological forecasting now include a greater emphasis on rainfall forecasting and ensemble and probabilistic techniques Regarding the interpretation of forecasts an updated chapter discusses topics such as approaches to issuing warnings and the use of decision support systems and risk based techniques Given the rapid pace of development in flash flood forecasting techniques flash floods and slower responding riverine floods are now considered in separate chapters This includes more detail on forecasting floods in large river basins and on methods for providing early warnings of debris flows surface water flooding and ice jam and dam break floods Later chapters now include more information on developing areas such as environmental modelling and seasonal flow forecasting As before examples of operational systems are provided throughout and the extensive sets of references which were a feature of the first edition have been revised and updated Key themes floods droughts meteorological observations catchment monitoring meteorological forecasts hydrological forecasts demand forecasts reservoirs water resources water quality decision support data assimilation probabilistic forecasts Kevin Sene is a civil engineer and researcher with wide experience in flood risk management water resources and hydrometeorology He has previously published books on flood warning forecasting and emergency response and flash floods Springer 2008 2013
