Opting For Elsewhere Lifestyle Migration In The American Middle Class:

Opting for Elsewhere Brian A. Hoey, 2014-08 Do you get told what the good life is or do you figure it out for yourself This is the central question of Opting for Elsewhere as the reader encounters stories of people who chose relocation as a way of redefining themselves and reordering work family and personal priorities This is a book about the impulse to start over Whether downshifting from stressful careers or being downsized from jobs lost in a surge of economic restructuring lifestyle migrants seek refuge in places that seem to resonate with an idealized potential self Choosing the option of elsewhere and moving as a means of remaking self through sheer force of will are basic facets of American character forged in its history as a developing nation of immigrants with a seemingly ever expanding frontier Building off years of interviews and research in the Midwest including areas of Michigan Brian Hoey provides an evocative illustration of the ways these sweeping changes impact people and the communities where they live and work as well as how both react devising strategies for either coping with or challenging the status quo This portrait of starting over in the heartland of America compels the reader to ask where we are going next as an emerging postindustrial society Opting for Elsewhere examines the stories of everyday Americans who move to new places as a way to redefine themselves through reordering work family and personal priorities Their lifestyle migration expresses longstanding cultural values while also demonstrating developing responses to distinctive contemporary challenges and opportunities Provided by publisher

Routledge Handbook of Cultural Gerontology Julia Twigg, Wendy Martin, 2026-01-30 The second edition of this landmark handbook provides an authoritative overview of the emergence and development of cultural gerontology It reveals the vibrancy and diversity of theory methodology and research methods and reflects on changes in the field since the first edition and examines future directions Over the last two decades cultural gerontology has emerged as one of the most lively and insightful areas of academic analysis Whilst the Cultural Turn may have come quite late to ageing studies cultural perspectives have increasingly influenced the field Drawing from work across the humanities and social sciences it has changed the ways in which we study later years challenging old stereotypes bringing to bear new theories new methodologies as well as new forms of political and intellectual engagement The aim of this second edition of the handbook has been to bring together both new and original authors to provide a critical analysis of key perspectives and debates and consider avenues for future agendas within their own fields of cultural gerontology There are new topics and themes new theoretical and methodological perspectives as well as chapters that have been extensively revised and updated The handbook offers lively interdisciplinary and vibrant accounts of later life around five interconnected areas the politics and theorising of ageing materiality and embodiment cultures of care identities relationships and consumption and arts and technologies The Routledge Handbook of Cultural Gerontology captures the field's past present and future in widening the social gerontological imaginary and brings new and creative methodologies to bear on the understanding of all dimensions of the lives of people in mid to later life It is essential reading for students and scholars concerned with ageing and gerontology Sideways Migration Deborah Reed-Danahay, 2024-11-29 This book examines the relationship between migration and socioeconomic status In particular it charts a set of middle class aspirations that lead people to move to a nearby nation that is similar in wealth and social indicators a type of horizontal relocation that it terms sideways migration It chronicles the experiences of a diverse group of French middle class citizens who moved to London during the late 20th and early 21st centuries Based on longitudinal ethnographic fieldwork over a ten year period this book engages at length with their strategies of emplacement through the lens of Pierre Bourdieu s concept of social space Against a backdrop of heightened anxieties about immigration the disruptions of the Brexit process and more recently a pandemic it shows how middle class migration is affected by processes of dislocation and relocation settling and unsettling and the search for belonging This book points to new directions for understanding transnationalism among middle class migrants through its consideration of the French emigration apparatus and the role of the multisite French nation in the lives of its citizens living abroad It will be key reading for scholars and students interested in emigration and migration from anthropology sociology geography political science history and international studies Privileging Place Meaghan Stiman, 2024-06-18 Over the past several decades and increasingly since the beginning of the pandemic second homeowners have left a distinctive mark across both rural and urban America As wealthy elites reallocate capital into housing investments other than their primary residence they extend the breadth of their influence to places as different as the backwoods of northern Maine and the cobblestone streets of Beacon Hill Across these varied geographies the purchase of second homes has become a social problem placing pressure on housing markets igniting political tensions and putting strain on local community dynamics While this movement of capital may be in part motivated by financial returns this alone cannot fully explain what motivates second homeowners nor does it capture the depth of their influence Privileging Place examines how place identity which is to say a felt identification with a particular kind of place leads many affluent people to shift a portion of their capital and their lives to a new place and to exert an influence on that place in a particular way Drawing on interviews with over sixty second homeowners as well as community observations from two years of field research in Rangeley Maine and Boston Massachusetts Meaghan Stiman looks at the ways in which place identity motivates the movements of a particular subset of second homeowners namely the upper middle class Belonging to the top 20% of American income earners these second home buyers are predominantly white and tend to concentrate their wealth in suburbs and other affluent resource rich areas In Privileging Place Stiman shows that for the upper middle class second home ownership is a way to promote an identity for themselves through the place where they buy their second home whether rural or urban But because these projects are second homes developed on the side while still holding onto the valued resources of their suburban primary residences Stiman argues that such place identity projects rely on further deepening inequalities in urban and rural places To the second homeowners these are not places to work go to school or contribute to community life but are places to imagine a version of themselves as urban or rural people and to imprint their version of urban or rural life onto the community where they live part time By tracing the way upper middle class values and practices unfold between secondary city and country homes and their suburban hometowns this book offers a detailed look into the spatial concentration and diffusion of white upper middle class privileges in the United States

The Encyclopedia of Rural Crime Alistair Harkness, Jessica Rene Peterson, Matt Bowden, Cassie Pedersen, Joseph F. Donnermeyer, 2024-05-21 This key reference guide to rural crime and rural justice gives 70 concise and informative synopses of the key issues in rural crime criminology offending and victimisation and both institutional and informal responses to rural crime

Protecting Suburban America Denise Lawrence-Zuniga, 2016-04-21 Protecting Suburban America explores the dynamics and conflicts inherent in preserving historic twentieth century suburban landscapes in America Bridging architecture anthropology planning and urban studies its unique approach combines a study of historic preservation with multi sited ethnographic fieldwork to shed fascinating light on issues of heritage preservation gentrification class ethnicity and contested values in suburbia These are subjects which reach far beyond the setting of the book s focus in California to touch on topical debates in cities suburbia and gentrifying neighborhoods worldwide At the heart of the book is a detailed comparative ethnography of preservation practices and the changing landscapes of five suburban cities where affluent homeowners have begun to restore their early twentieth century houses in neighborhoods once suffering from decline Not every neighbor however shares the same aesthetic values and complex dynamics can arise The study compares experiences in five different cities and in different long term immigrant and gentrifying populations Themes revealed include homeowner restoration practices aesthetic contestations local advocacy and public policy alongside an exploration of the social construction of the historic restoration process and how homeowners construct historical meaning in their homes and neighbourhoods These are themes with consequences for national and global settings of interest wherever contested preservation aesthetics and regulations are reshaping older residential neighbourhoods and their social dynamics

Entre tourisme et migration Rémy Tremblay, Olivier Dehoorne, 2018-06-12 Si le concept de Lifestyle Migration a posé les bases d'un style de vie migratoire nouveau et en pleine croissance il demeure flou et peu étudié dans le milieu universitaire francophone En effet ces personnes sont-elles des migrantes ou des touristes Les deux la fois Et comment traduire ce concept en français Ce livre offre des études de cas afin d'illustrer la complexité du phénomène Il se veut un des rares corpus du genre en langue française explorer les liens complexes parfois flous entre le tourisme et les migrations

Lifestyle Migration Dr Michaela Benson, Ms Karen O'Reilly, 2012-12-28 Relatively affluent individuals from various corners of the globe are increasingly choosing to migrate spurred on by the promise of a better and more fulfilling way of life within their destination Despite its increasing scale migration academics have yet to consolidate and establish lifestyle migration as a subfield of theoretical enquiry until now This volume offers a dynamic and holistic analysis of contemporary lifestyle migrations exploring the expectations and aspirations which inform and drive migration alongside the realities of life within the destination It also recognizes the structural conditions and constraints which frame lifestyle migration laying the groundwork for further intellectual enquiry Through rich empirical case studies this volume addresses this important and increasingly common form of migration in a manner that will interest scholars of mobility migration lifestyle and culture across the social sciences Rethinking Privilege and Social Mobility in Middle-Class Migration Shanthi Robertson, Rosie Roberts, 2022-03-24 This volume explores the experiences of a wide variety of middle class migrant groups across the globe including ethnic entrepreneurs building new businesses in cosmopolitan neighbourhoods in Sydney Chinese grandparents shuttling between Australia China and Singapore to support their extended families well off young Indians in Mumbai strategising their future education pathways overseas and Japanese mothers finding ways to belong in a London middle class neighbourhood This book asks how relatively privileged migrant groups negotiate their life trajectories relationships and aspirations while on the move and how they transform the communities and societies that they move between across time and space The book's chapters consider motives for migration as well as experiences of risk uncertainty and insecurity in diverse local contexts A fresh look at the migration of those who possess skills and resources that can bring about significant economic social and cultural change this book engages critically with the notions of middling migration social mobility and mobile privilege in the global context of hardening borders and immigration complexity It will appeal to scholars with interests in contemporary forms of migration and mobility and their local and transnational consequences Gringolandia Matthew Hayes, 2018-11-13 A telling look at today's reverse migration of white middle class expats from north to south through the lens of one South American city Even as the migration crisis from the Global South to the Global North rages on another lower key and yet important migration has been gathering pace in recent years that of mostly white middle class people moving in the opposite direction Gringolandia is that rare book to consider this phenomenon in all its complexity Matthew Hayes focuses on North Americans relocating to Cuenca Ecuador the country's third largest city and a UNESCO World Heritage Site Many began relocating there after the 2008 economic crisis Most are self-professed economic refugees who sought offshore retirement affordable medical care and or a lower cost location Others however sought adventure marked by relocation to an unfamiliar cultural environment and to experience personal growth through travel illustrative of contemporary cultures of aging These life projects are often motivated by a desire to escape economic and political conditions in North America Regardless of their individual motivations Hayes argues such North South migrants remain embedded in unequal and unfair global social relations He explores the repercussions on the host country from rising prices for land and rent to the reproduction of colonial patterns of domination and subordination In Ecuador heritage preservation and tourism development reflect the interests and culture of European descendent landowning elites who have most to benefit from the new North South migration In the process they participate in transnational gentrification that marginalizes popular traditions and nonwhite mestizo and indigenous informal workers

The contrast between the migration experiences of North Americans in Ecuador and those of Ecuadorians or others from such regions of the Global South in North America and Europe demonstrates that in fact what we face is not so much a global migration crisis but a crisis of global social justice Understanding Lifestyle Migration M. Benson,N.

Osbaldiston,2014-06-03 This book draws on social theories to understand lifestyle migration as a social phenomenon The chapters engage theoretically with themes and debates relevant to contemporary social science such as place and space social stratification and power relations production and consumption individualism dwelling and imagination Lifestyle Migration

Michaela Benson,Karen O'Reilly,2009 Immigrants and the American Dream William A. V. Clark,2003-06-06 The United States has absorbed nearly 10 million immigrants in the past decade This book examines who the new immigrants are where they live and who among them are gaining entry into the American middle class Discussed are the complex factors that promote or hinder immigrant success as well as the varying opportunities and constraints met by those living in particular regions Extensive data are synthesized on key dimensions of immigrant achievement income level professional status and rates of homeownership and political participation Also provided is a balanced analysis of the effects of immigration on broader socioeconomic geographic and political trends Examining the extent to which contemporary immigrants are realizing the American dream this book explores crucial policy questions and challenges that face our diversifying society Practising the Good Life Kate Torkington,2015 Rethinking Privilege and Social Mobility in

Middle-Class Migration Taylor & Francis Group,2022-03-25 This volume explores the experiences of a wide variety of middle class or middling migrant groups across the globe asking how relatively privileged migrant groups negotiate their life trajectories and aspirations while on the move and how they potentially transform the communities and societies that they move both from and to
