Fundamentals of Modern Manufacturing Mikell P. Groover, 2010-01-07 Engineers rely on Groover because of the book's quantitative and engineering oriented approach that provides more equations and numerical problem exercises. The fourth edition introduces more modern topics including new materials processes and systems. End of chapter problems are also thoroughly revised to make the material more relevant. Several figures have been enhanced to significantly improve the quality of artwork. All of these changes will help engineers better understand the topic and how to apply it in the field.

Dietary Intake and Cardiovascular Risk Factors William R. Harlan, 1983 Attention is directed towards possible associations between nutritional variables and coronary artery disease risk factors based on data developed during the first US National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey 1971-75. Relative body weight/weight height squared was determined to be an important predictor of serum cholesterol and urate levels and of blood pressure levels in US adults. This predictor together with age and sex accounted for most of the explained variance. Dietary variables based on results from 24 hours recall or on a food frequency questionnaire did not influence serum cholesterol or urate levels. Alcohol intakes however correlated directly with serum urate level. Serum Ca and Mg levels and serum glutamic oxalacetic transaminase were found to be directly and independently related to serum cholesterol and urate which were also related to each other. Other positive and negative influences on serum cholesterol and urate levels are discussed. Summarized data concerning this study are provided.      Journal of the American Medical Association, 2001      Dietary Intake and Cardiovascular Risk Factors, 1983      Performance Standards in
