Larichev,David L. Olson,2013-11-11 1 Facility Location Problems The location problem has been with humans for all of their history In the past many rulers had the decision of locating their capital Reasons for selecting various locations included central location transportation benefits to foster trade and defensibility The development of industry involved location problems for production facilities and trade outlets Obvious th criteria for location of business facilities included profit impact In the 19 century there seemed to be a focus on the cost of transporting raw materials versus the cost of transporting goods to consumers Location decisions were made considering all potential gains and expenses Some judgment was required because while most benefits and costs could be measured accurately not all could be Successful business practice depended on the sound judgment of the decision maker in solving location problems Each of these enterprises produced some wastes Finding a location to dispose of these wastes was not a difficult task In less enlightened times governments resorted to fiat and land condemnation to take the sites needed th for disposal In the 19 century industry grew rapidly in Great Britain and elsewhere as mass production served expanding populations of consumers The by products of mass production were often simply discarded in the most expeditious manner There are still mountains in the United States Introduction 2 with artificial facades created from the excess material discarded from mining activity We have developed the ability to create waste of
