Birsh, 1999 This guide reveals the benefits of using multisensory instruction in any classroom After they review 50 years of research and experience with those with learning disabilities the authors explain how and why multisensory methods work Assessing and Correcting Reading and Writing Difficulties Thomas G. Gunning, 2002 This text provides numerous examples and thorough coverage of procedures for assessing and instructing struggling readers of all ages In keeping with current theory the text emphasizes prevention and early intervention It is based on the premise that student performance is variable and that assessment and instruction are planned and modified to meet the varied needs and levels of students

Gunning does not subscribe to a medical model that emphasizes deficiencies but rather focuses on what students can do. This text calls for inclusion not exclusion but recognizes that struggling learners need expert carefully planned assessment and instruction. Assessment coverage includes a grounding in basic concepts of tests and measurement. While formal standardized measures are described, emphasis is placed upon informal but highly regarded techniques such as the informal reading inventory, miscue analysis, running records, observation, think alouds, holistic scoring of writing, and portfolio assessment. In addition to chapters devoted specifically to assessment, ways to connect assessment and instruction are mentioned throughout the text. Coverage of instructional techniques is thorough and practical. Nine chapters are devoted to instructional techniques.

The New Inclusion Kathy Perez, 2013-12-06

How can today's educators rise to the challenges of teaching in the inclusive classroom while at the same time making teaching more rewarding and beneficial for all students? In her new book, acclaimed international educational consultant Kathy Perez provides powerful instructional strategies not only for students with special needs but also for their general education peers. Her New Inclusion encompasses a broader understanding of the inclusive classroom, embracing all the different needs that teachers face, from special education to ELL to a wide spectrum of student ability and readiness. This innovative resource combines the latest research in brain-based teaching and student engagement with useful interventions and differentiated strategies. Designed to be of practical and immediate use, all chapters include a focus on the needs of less able readers. In addition, information for implementation and adaptation is provided to accommodate various grade levels. The text includes classroom vignettes, ties to the Common Core, illustrations, diagrams, highlight boxes, and many more user-friendly features. The most well-prepared teachers with the best-written lesson plans will affect nothing in their classrooms if the students are not engaged. In this book, Kathy shares her teaching strategies, complete with clear instruction and doable steps to suit different learning preferences, facilitating classroom learning the Kathy Perez way. Certainly, this makes the classroom come alive. From the Foreword by Lim Chye Tin, Former Dean, Academy of Principals, Singapore.

Kathy Perez has defined and outlined potential issues, common misconceptions, and specific strategies to intentionally address the various learning styles and problematic blocks that impede literacy development. Each chapter is organized for quick referencing and loaded with interactive activities that can be applied to any content area and grade level. This is a must-have for teachers looking for time-saving, highly effective ways to differentiate their instruction in an inclusive classroom.

Jeannie Donoghue, Professional Development Director, Bureau of Education and Research, Seattle, WA

Teachers will find an abundance of practical strategies steeped in research and clustered around the learning needs of students, especially struggling students. Teachers and administrators have the will to create learning environments that promote student success, but time is so frequently the commodity that is scarce, making exploration of new and innovative techniques challenging. Here is a toolkit rich with practices designed to promote learning and literacy in inclusive classrooms.

Linda K. Rondeau, Superintendent, Pittsburg Unified School District

Dr. Perez provides
