The Legal Singularity Abdi Aidid, Benjamin Alarie, 2023-06-26 Law today is incomplete inaccessible unclear underdeveloped and often perplexing to those whom it affects In The Legal Singularity Abdi Aidid and Benjamin Alarie argue that the proliferation of artificial intelligence enabled technology and specifically the advent of legal prediction is on the verge of radically reconfiguring the law our institutions and our society for the better Revealing the ways in which our legal institutions underperform and are expensive to administer the book highlights the negative social consequences associated with our legal status quo Given the infirmities of the current state of the law and our legal institutions the silver lining is that there is ample room for improvement With concerted action technology can help us to ameliorate the problems of the law and improve our legal institutions Inspired in part by the concept of the technological singularity The Legal Singularity presents a future state in which technology facilitates the functional completeness of law where the law is at once extraordinarily more complex in its specification than it is today and yet operationally the law is vastly more knowable fairer and clearer for its subjects Aidid and Alarie describe the changes that will culminate in the legal singularity and explore the implications for the law and its institutions that these companies have unique skills to diversify their revenue generation by being ambidextrous. Luxury companies today cannot depend on their reputation or their creativity alone to remain resilient; rather, they require the ability to be ambidextrous to explore new trajectories for future growth and exploiting their iconic values. In past decades, the industry has shifted from product to customer-centric and forced companies to adopt new strategies and approaches to succeed. This includes the adoption of digital platforms such as e-commerce, social media, and mobile-enabled tools to continually elevate customer experience. In addition, new business models have emerged to address growing pains, particularly in inventory issues, over manufacturing, and sustainability. Brands today are forced to adopt evolution through innovation that is anchored by new values without compromising their DNA. Based on in-depth research and interviews with CEOs from leading luxury companies, Lojacono and Pan show how companies can hedge their risks and remain resilient in times of change.
