Exploring the Role of Social Media in Health Promotion Michael Stellefson, J. Don Chaney, Beth H. Chaney, Samantha R. Paige, 2020-06-18 The use of social media in public health education promotion has been increasing due in part to its ability to remove physical access and geographical barriers for users Specifically social media provides an outlet to increase and promote translational health communication strategies and the effective dissemination of health information and data in ways that allow users to not only utilize but also to create and share pertinent health information. Although social media applications in public health and health promotion have yielded success in terms of generating support structures and networks for effective health behavior change, there are challenges and complications associated with use of social media that also need to be addressed, e.g., managing misinformation, ensuring compliance with privacy protection regulations. This Special Issue aims to explore social media as a translational health promotion tool by bridging principles of health education and health communication. Broadly, this Special Issue is seeking original submissions that examine 1) the method with which social media users access, negotiate, and create health information that is both actionable and impactful for diverse audiences; 2) strategies for overcoming challenges to using social media in health promotion; and 3) best practices for designing, implementing, and/or evaluating social media campaigns and forums in public health. Special interest will be given to innovative submissions that expand and build upon traditional health education approaches with health communication theories and models. Other manuscript types of interest include relevant position papers, brief reports, and commentaries.

Radical Innovation Challenges: Corporate To Climate Joe Tidd, 2023-03-07. Business and management approaches to innovation tend to focus on incremental changes to existing products and processes such as new product development, design thinking, and business model innovation. In contrast, Radical Innovation Challenges focusses on radical and breakthrough innovation and identifies its distinct sources, organization processes, and outcomes. This book illustrates conceptual models and practical methods to better understand and manage radical innovation and provides an argument for an iterative coupling process between knowledge push and demand pull challenges and opportunities. The book draws upon a distinct interdisciplinary body of knowledge to provide a crucial insight into the latest research and experience and demonstrates how radical innovation practices and policies can be applied to fundamental corporate and social challenges such as climate change.

On 15 April 2024, Justice Michael Lee delivered his judgment in Lehrmann v Network 10. The case, which centred on proceedings brought by Bruce Lehrmann against journalist Lisa Wilkinson and Network 10 for her 2021 interview with Brittany Higgins, alleged that Wilkinson had defamed Lehrmann by accusing him of raping Higgins at Parliament House in 2019. It was a singular case and the controversy has become a cause célèbre described by the judge.
