Modality and Diachronic Construction Grammar Martin Hilpert, Bert Cappelle, Ilse Depraetere, 2021-10-15
This volume explores how Diachronic Construction Grammar can shed new light on changes in a central and well researched domain of grammar namely modality Its main goal is to show how constructional analyses can help us address some of the long standing questions that have informed discussions of modal expressions and their development and to illustrate the processes that are involved in these developments on the basis of data from languages such as English Finnish French Galician German and Japanese The studies in this volume are organized around three interrelated topics The first of these concerns the organization of modal constructions in a network A second focus area of the studies in this volume concerns the developmental pathways that modal constructions follow diachronically The third topic that ties the contributions of this volume together is the contrast between constructionalization and constructional change

Literature, Language and Computing Polina Eismont, Maria Khokhlova, Mikhail Koryshev, 2025-03-26
This book brings together the selected revised papers representing a multidisciplinary approach to language and literature The collection presents studies performed using the methods of computational linguistics in accordance with the traditions of Russian linguistic and literary studies primarily in line with the Leningrad Petersburg philological school The book comprises the papers allocated into two sections discussing the study of corpora in language translation and literary studies and the use of computing in language teaching and translation and in emotional text processing A unique feature of the presented collection is that the papers compiled in one volume allow readers to get an understanding of a wide range of research conducted in Saint Petersburg State University and other Russian leading scientific institutions Both the classical tradition of Saint Petersburg philology and the results obtained with the help of new computer technologies as a sample of the symbiosis of technologies and traditions which bring research to a qualitatively
