The Predicament of Postmodern Theology Gavin Hyman, 2001-01-01 Gavin Hyman explores in depth two antithetical schools of postmodern theology the radical orthodoxy of John Milbank and the nihilist textualism of Don Cupitt Hyman critiques Milbank's influential project from a postmodern perspective and then points out the major difficulties with Cupitt's approach Finally he explores the work of Mark C Taylor and Michael de Certeau to articulate a third way that leads beyond the responses of both Cupitt and Milbank

The Mystic Fable, Volume Two Michel de Certeau, 2015 More than two decades have passed since Chicago published the first volume of this groundbreaking work in the Religion and Postmodernism series It quickly became influential across a wide range of disciplines and helped to make the tools of poststructuralist thought available to religious studies and theology especially in the areas of late medieval and early modern mysticism Though the second volume remained in fragments at the time of his death Michel de Certeau had the foresight to leave his literary executor detailed instructions for its completion which formed the basis for the present work Together both volumes solidify Certeau's place as a touchstone of twentieth century literature and philosophy and continue his exploration of the paradoxes of historiography the construction of social reality through practice testimony and belief the theorization of speech in angelology and glossolalia and the interplay of prose and poetry in discourses of the ineffable This book will be of vital interest to scholars in religious studies theology philosophy history and literature

Cusanus Today David Albertson, 2024-06 At the end of the nineteenth century German theologians and philosophers rediscovered the Renaissance cardinal Nicholas of Cusa 1401-1464 Immediately they hailed Cusanus as the first modern thinker a brilliant German rival to the French Descartes But since the founding of the Cusanus critical edition in 1927 up to its conclusion in 2005 historians have gradually learned that Nicholas was more of a medieval preacher and contemplative than a modern philosopher Yet over the same century modern German and French readers were already digging into Nicholas's many works There they encountered an exciting voice with fresh perspectives about God's immanence in the cosmos and the awesome capacities of the human mind. Leading philosophers and theologians from Erich Przywara to Karl Jaspers to Hans Georg Gadamer and from Gilles Deleuze to Jacques Lacan to Michel de Certeau found their own thinking stimulated by the cardinal's innovative concepts and interdisciplinary style. Even as Nicholas shifted from modern to medieval among historians he was emerging as a contemporary interlocutor for moderns and postmoderns. Who could have guessed that the first debate between Jean-Luc Marion and Emmanuel Falque would take place over the fifteenth century mystical dialogue De visione dei? If Meister Eckhart found his moment amidst Deconstruction in prior decades Nicholas of Cusa is our thinker for today. His interests anticipate themes in continental philosophy of religion whether alterity, invisibility, the fold or the icon. His habit of interweaving philosophy and theology anticipates current debates on the thresholds of phenomenology. Our volume first maps the contours of modern receptions of Nicholas of Cusa in French and German spheres and then beyond Europe to the Americas and Japan. It also hosts the next round of engagement by some of today's most original Christian thinkers Emmanuel Falque, John Milbank and David Bentley Hart.

Spirituality and the Mystic Wanderers of Today, 2008 Mystic-wanderers in the Land of Perpetual Departure Karl Gaspar, 2005 Magical Thinking

Stuart McWilliams, 2011-12-08 How do we write about magic? Responding to a renewed interest in the history of the occult this volume examines the role of magic in a series of methodological controversies in the humanities. In case studies ranging from the necromancy of historiography to the strident rationalism of the New Atheism, Magical Thinking sets out the surprising ways in which scholars and critics have imagined the occult. The volume argues that thinking and writing about magic has engendered multiple epistemological crises profoundly unsettling the understanding of history and knowledge in Western culture. By examining how scholarly writing has contended and conspired with discourses of enchantment the book reveals the implications of magic and its scholarship for intellectual history.

Spirituality of Authentic Witnesses in Postmodern Asia, 2007 Mysticisms East and West Christopher Hugh Partridge, Theodore P. C. Gabriel, 2003

Mysticism is proving to be the chosen type of religion for future generations of believers in the West. As traditional institutional religion continues to decline, mystical thought is celebrated as a vital subversive alternative. Evidence for this religious cultural shift towards the mystical, the experiential and indeed the creation centered can be found in bookstores most of which devote a large amount of shelf space to mystical themes and writers from the world religions. While this shift is not new an increasing number of westerners are turning east because they find the fundamentally mystical thought of Asian religious traditions appealing. Furthermore numerous westerners have actually become gurus and mystics within Eastern traditions. Mysticisms East and West examines the worldwide phenomenon of mystical experience across the world religions. In examining both Christian and non-Christian expressions of mysticism this unique volume brings together a number of prominent evangelical scholars to analyze the central historical, cultural and theological issues. Beginning in the East these studies in mystical experience gradually move to the West and to Christian mysticism before concluding with a number of philosophically
