The book does this by listing and categorizing twenty five relevant pathways sharing the stories and insights of insiders within each pathway and calling for further creativity in putting one's biblical training to work. Each contributor shares 1 how they settled into their represented occupation 2 the ways in which they have used their biblical training in that occupation 3 the joys and trials of their work and 4 advice for those who would like to follow in their footsteps. Autoethnographies Daisy Pillay, Inbanathan Naicker, Kathleen Pithouse-Morgan, 2016-02-10 Academic Autoethnographies Inside Teaching in Higher Education invites readers to experience autoethnography as a challenging, complex and creative research methodology that can produce personally, professionally and socially useful understandings of teaching and researching in higher education. The peer-reviewed chapters offer innovative and perspicacious explorations of interrelationships between personal autobiographies, lived educational experiences and wider social and cultural concerns across diverse disciplines and university contexts. This edited book is distinctive within the existing body of autoethnographic scholarship in that the original research presented has been done in relation to predominantly South African university settings. This research is complemented by contributions from Canadian and Swedish scholars. The sociocultural, educational and methodological insights communicated in this book will be valuable for specialists in the field of higher education and to those in other academic domains who are interested in self-reflexive, transformative and creative research methodologies and methods. This book illuminates how autoethnography can engage authors and researchers from varied epistemological backgrounds in a reflexive multilogue about who they are and what they do. The creative representations of the lived experience of doing autoethnography sets the book apart both methodologically and theoretically, revealing how rigor and critical distance can serve to position autoethnography not only as a personal self-development tool but a tradition and method in its own right. Hyleen Mariaye, Associate Professor, Mauritius Institute of Education, Mauritius. This compelling book foregrounds autoethnography as an innovative and creative research methodology to generate reflexive, sociological
