Cleanliness and Culture C. (Kees) van Dijk,Jean Gelman Taylor,2011-01-01 Recent years have shown an increase in interest in the study of cleanliness from a historical and sociological perspective Many of such studies on bathing and washing on keeping the body and the streets clean and on filth and the combat of dirt focus on Europe In Cleanliness and Culture attention shifts to the tropics to Indonesia in colonial times as well as in the present Subjects range from the use of soap and the washing of clothes as a pretext to claim superiority of race and class to how references to being clean played a role in a campaign against European homosexuals in the Netherlands Indies at the end of the 1930s Other topics are eerie skin diseases and the sanitary measures to eliminate them and how misconceptions about lack of hygiene as the cause of illness hampered the finding of a cure Attention is also drawn to differences in attitude towards performing personal body functions outdoors and retreating to the privacy of the bathroom to traditional bathing ritual and to the modern tropical Spa culture as a manifestation of a New Asian lifestyle With contributions by Bart Barendregt Marieke Bloembergen Kees van Dijk Mary Somers Heidhues David Henley George Quinn and Jean Gelman Taylor Spa Management ,2010-07

Spas in Britain and in France in the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries Annick Cossic-Péricarpin,Annick Cossic,Patrick Galliou,2006 Originating from the age old belief that water springing from the depths was endowed with healing properties spas which first blossomed in the West during the heyday of the Roman Empire again gained importance and fame in the 18th and 19th centuries as the increasing medicalisation of thermal water drew crowds to the best sited or best organised watering places of European economically developed countries As in most cases none but the social elites could afford to spend time and money in such spots investment followed both in terms of architecture and of leisure since visitors after having been convinced by their physicians high society journals or word of mouth had to be kept happy as well as made fit Simultaneously competition grew as spas vied for patronage both within national borders and across Europe the alleged quality of their waters being flaunted in the jingoistic battles of words which served as forerunners to the grislier actions of WW1 Being the major lieus of high society leisure and pleasure spas underwent the same decline as the prewar moneyed classes which patronized them and lost ground both to more exotic destinations and to seaside resorts which likewise promoted health and well being but in a less elitist environment and at a cheaper price Thalassotherapy grafting on the success of the latter and making much of the relaxation and physical fitness derived from natural elements such as seawater or seaweeds is the latest avatar of that long story which the papers of the conference held in Brest France in May 2005 here purport to tell
