

Old Folks Laugh

They have spent their content of simpering, holding their lips this and that way, winding the lines between their brows. Old folks allow their bellies to jiggle like slow tambourines.

The hollers rise up and spill over any way they want.

When old folks laugh, they free the world. They turn slowly, slyly knowing the best and the worst of remembering.

Saliva glistens in the corners of their mouths, their heads wobble on brittle necks, but their laps are filled with memories.

When old folks laugh, they consider the promise of dear painless death, and generously forgive life for happening to them.

Maya Angelou

Lost Illusions Honoré de Balzac,2020-05-26 A new annotated translation of the keystone of Balzac's Com die Humaine a sweeping narrative of corrupted idealism in a cynical urban milieu Lost Illusions is an essential text within Balzac's Com die Humaine his sprawling interconnected fictional portrait of French society in the 1820s and 1830s comprising nearly one hundred novels and short stories This novel published in three parts between 1837 and 1843 tells the story of Lucien de Rubempré a talented young poet who leaves behind a scandalous provincial life for the shallow corrupt and cynical vortex of modernity that was nineteenth century Paris where his artistic idealism slowly dissipates until he eventually decides to return home Balzac poured many of his thematic preoccupations and narrative elaborations into Lost Illusions from the contrast between life in the provinces and the all consuming world of Paris to the idealism of poets the commodification of art the crushing burden of poverty and debt and the triumphant cynicism of hack journalists and social climbers The novel teems with characters incidents and settings though perhaps none so vivid as its panoramic and despairing view of Paris as the nexus of modernity's cultural social and moral infection For Balzac no institution better illustrates the new reality than Parisian journalism amoral hypocritical brazen dishonest and murderous he writes In this new translation Raymond N MacKenzie brilliantly captures the tone of Balzac's incomparable prose a style that is alternately impassioned overheated angry moving tender wistful digressive chatty intrusive and hectoring His informative annotations guide the modern reader through the labyrinth of Balzac's allusions      Association Poultry Journal ,1926      Oswaal Karnataka SSLC Question Bank Class 10 English IIInd Language Book Chapterwise & Topicwise (For 2024 Exam) Oswaal Editorial
