These findings are very far removed from what would be expected of 'New' classical models of the economy, which predict that there will be no change in the overall output and the overall return when there are changes in the economic system or in the economic environment.

Accordingly, we have undertaken a detailed study of the properties of the  $\alpha$ -helix and the  $\beta$ -sheet, and have determined the effect of the  $\alpha$ -helix and the  $\beta$ -sheet on the properties of the protein. The results of this study will be presented in the following sections, and the properties of the  $\alpha$ -helix and the  $\beta$ -sheet will be discussed in detail.

and the expansion of electronic data collection. In general, these new technologies have increased the speed and efficiency of data collection, but they have also raised concerns about the potential for privacy violations and the use of data for discriminatory purposes.
