Chemistry of Human Nature Tom Husband, 2020-08-28 Why does chocolate taste so good Why do we seek the one How do traits such as intelligence creativity and violence arise and what purpose do they serve This book links these characteristics to the origins of life showing that the conditions necessary to bring life into existence echo through our modern day behaviour The chemistry of the body is not only fascinating but also highly relevant to everyone since we are all concerned with maximising our health and enjoyment of life Currently there are not many popular science books concerned with biochemistry One reason for this might be the particularly complex nature of the science involved This book starts with the fundamentals and then works towards a deeper understanding of the chemistry of human nature Essential reading for anyone with an interest in this science and written at a level accessible to experts and non experts alike

Principle-Based

Stepped Care and Brief Psychotherapy for Integrated Care Settings Alexandros Maragakis, William T. O'Donohue, 2018-02-13

This timely volume provides the practitioner with evidence based treatments for many of the clinical problems encountered in integrated care. It applies the core concepts of stepped care to integrating brief mental health interventions as a way to address ongoing problems in the modern healthcare landscape. It sets out in depth the state of the healthcare crisis in terms of costs, staffing and training issues, integration logistics and management system culture and a variety of clinical considerations. Central to the book is a best practice template for providing behavioral stepped care in medical settings including screening and assessment levels of intervention and treatment referrals and collaboration with primary care and other specialties. Using this format, contributors detail specific challenges of and science based interventions for a diverse range of common conditions and issues including Depression, Anxiety disorders, Adherence to chronic obstructive pulmonary disorder management, Alcohol and other substance misuse, Attention deficit hyperactivity disorder, Chronic pain, Neurocognitive disorders, Paraphilias, problematic sexual interests, WU3 Sexual abuse and PTSD in children. A solid roadmap for widescale reform. Principle Based Stepped Care and Brief Psychotherapy for Integrated Care Settings is deeply informative reading for health psychologists, social workers, psychiatrists and clinical psychologists. It also clarifies the research agenda for those seeking improvements in healthcare quality and delivery and patient satisfaction.

Kessel, Anne W. Lee, Søren M.

Bentzen, Bhadrasain Vikram, Fridtjof Nuesslin, Stephanie E. Combs, 2018-04-12 In radiation oncology as in many other specialties, clinical trials are essential to investigate new therapy approaches. Usually, preparation for a prospective clinical trial is extremely time consuming until ethics approval is obtained. To test a new treatment, usually many years pass before it can be implemented in the routine care. During that time, already new interventions emerge, new drugs appear on the market, technical/physical innovations are being implemented, novel biology driven concepts are translated into clinical approaches while we are still investigating the ones from years ago. Another problem is associated with molecular diagnostics and the growing amount of tumor specific biomarkers which allows for a better stratification of patient subgroups. On the other side, this may result in a much longer time for patient recruiting and consequently in larger multicenter trials. Moreover, all of the relevant data must be readily available for treatment decision making, treatment as well as follow up and ultimately for trial evaluation. This challenges even more for agreed standards in data acquisition quality and management. How could we change the way currently clinical trials are performed in a way they are safe and ethically justifiable and speed up the initiation process so we can provide new and better treatments faster for our patients? Further, while we rely on various quantitative information, handling distributed large heterogeneous amounts of data efficiently is very important. Thus, data management becomes a strong focus A good infrastructure helps to plan tailor and conduct clinical trials in a way they are easy and quickly analyzable In this research topic we want to discuss new ideas for intelligent trial designs and concepts for data management

Multiresidue Methods for the Analysis of Pesticide Residues in Food Horacio Heinzen,Leo M.L. Nollet,Amadeo R. Fernandez-Alba,2017-10-10 In the last decades the public concern on the pesticide residues content in foods have been steadily rising The global development of food trade implies that aliments from everywhere in the world can reach the consumer s table Therefore the identification of agricultural practices that employ different pesticides combinations and application rates to protect produce must be characterized as they left residues that could be noxious to human health However the possible number of pesticides and its metabolites of toxicological relevance to be found in a specific commodity is almost 1500 and the time needed to analyze them one by one makes this analytical strategy a unrealistic task To overcome this problem the concept of Multi Residue Methods MRM for the analysis of pesticide traces have been developed The advent of new and highly sensitive instrumentation based in hyphenatedchromatographic systems to coupled mass analyzers XC MS MS or MSn permitted simultaneously the identification and the determination of up to hundreds of pesticide residues in a single chromatographic run Multiresidue Methods for the Analysis of Pesticide Residues in Food presents the analytical procedures developed in the literature as well as those currently employed in the most advanced laboratories that perform routinely Pesticide Residue Analysis in foods In addition to these points the regulations guidelines and recommendations from the most important regulatory agencies of the world on the topic will be commented and contrasted
