Lesson 1 – Declaring Independence

Second Continental Congress – American leaders met in Philadelphia in 1775.

- Formed the Continental Army – an army with soldiers from the 13 colonies.
- John Adams suggested George Washington to lead the army.
- John Hancock served as president of Congress.
- George Washington finished as General Commander in Chief.
- The Americans wanted to avoid war so created the Olive Branch Petition.
- Olive Branch Petition – American Congress wrote to King George III telling him the American colonists were loyal to Britain, but wanted greater freedom to govern themselves.

Thomas Paine

Common Sense – published pamphlet called Common Sense that was written in an easy to understand language and convinced many American Colonists that it was time to declare independence from Britain. It sold over 100,000 copies and he donated profits to Congress to support the revolution.

Robert Henry Lee – a member of congress from Virginia asked Congress to vote to declare independence. First Congress made sure every colony agreed before they voted. Congress decided to form a committee to draft the document declaring the American Colonies independent from Britain. – The Declaration of Independence

The Declaration of Independence

- The members of the drafting committee included Ben Franklin, John Adams, Roger Sherman (from Connecticut), Robert Livingston (from NY), and a 33 yr old lawyer from Virginia named Thomas Jefferson.
- Thomas Jefferson was a member of VA House of Burgesses before he joined the Continental Congress.
- He was an excellent writer so John Adams suggested that Thomas Jefferson write the majority of The Declaration of Independence.

The Declaration of Independence

- The document explained why the American colonists must declare independence from Britain.
- It said that all people are born with "unalienable rights" that means right that cannot be taken away from them.
- It stated that if the government takes away those rights, people should be free to create a new government.
 - o The declaration stated that the British government had taken away those rights, for example, by taxing the colonies without giving them any representation in Parliament.
- Because the King refused to give the Americans their right to create their own government.
- Lastly, the Declaration ended with all of the signers vowing to defend their revolution with "their lives, fortunes, and sacred honor."
