Public Budgeting and Financial Management Nancy Hudspeth, Andrew Crosby, 2026-01-22 Public Budgeting and Financial Management provides an accessible applied introduction and overview of public budgeting for students who may not have previous experience with economics or statistics. This new textbook contains several outstanding features. A focus on all levels of government federal, state and local. An approach that assumes no previous knowledge of economics, statistics or mathematics. Applied exercises in each chapter using current real world scenarios. A conversational, engaging, jargon free writing style. Authors Nancy Hudspeth and Andrew Crosby examine important case studies including the lingering financial effects of COVID 19 on communities across the United States and the ways in which Detroit's bankruptcy more than a decade ago continues to impact local, regional and state finances. This book is accompanied by online instructor and student resources including sample municipal budgets for students and quizzes with an answer key for instructors. More advanced readers will benefit from the authors' thorough introduction to financial functions. This comprehensive and innovative new textbook will be required reading for all undergraduate and graduate courses in public budgeting and financial management and it offers a unique one stop shop for traditional one semester budgeting courses in Master of Public Administration (MPA) programs.

Fundamentals of Corporate Finance, 5th Edition Robert Parrino, Hue Hwa Au Yong, Nigel Morkel-Kingsbury, Jennifer James, Paul Mazzola, James Murray, Lee Smales, Xiaoting Wei, 2026-01-08 Fundamentals of Corporate Finance 5th Edition is a core resource for business students, particularly those who find the mathematical aspects of finance challenging. The text presents financial principles in a clear, logical sequence, supporting comprehension through a step-by-step approach. Beyond technical skills, the resource encourages the development of analytical thinking through local examples and real world applications. This helps students build the intuition required to apply financial tools effectively in practice.

Business Basics for Veterinarians Lowell J. Ackerman, 2002 While many veterinarians choose to believe that expertise in medicine necessarily precludes having business sense, nothing could be further from the truth. In fact, business and medicine are both evidence based disciplines with much in common. When a patient is sick, we use standard algorithms to determine the most likely causes and run appropriate diagnostic tests. We do the same thing with a business that is in failing health. We might run an inventory audit instead of a radiograph or look at financial statements rather than laboratory results, but the problem solving approach is the same. Once a medical problem is unearthed, we prescribe appropriate treatment. The same holds for businesses. A practice may not need an antibiotic injection, but an infusion of capital might be just what the doctor orders for an outdated facility. Finally, once the problem is corrected, we periodically monitor the patient with wellness exams, assuring continued health. Businesses are no different. We continue to take their vital signs, benchmark them against established normals, and make sure that they continue on a healthful trend. What could possibly be a more natural extension of expertise than applying the same care to practice management as patient management.
