Nursing Policy Research Turning Evidence Based Research Into Health Policy:

Nursing Policy Research Geri Dickson, Linda Flynn, 2008-08-14 Offers excellent examples of nurses in action effectively marrying research evidence and theories of policy influence to achieve policy change. Only when we get the right policy research messages to the right policy makers will there be a real research policy connection. Hats off to Nursing Policy Research authors, contributors, and publisher Springer Publishing Company for helping move us forward. Judith A. Oulton, Oulton Associates Specialist in nursing and health policy and development. Nurse leaders, researchers, and evaluators face a vital problem in the profession: how to successfully translate evidence based research into health policy. In this book, seasoned researchers share their knowledge, skills, and expertise on the most important aspects of the research enterprise and its connection to policy implementation. Readers will learn how to identify the relevant health care issues that policy makers are concerned with, collect and manage data that will influence policy discussion, translate statistical significance into policy at the institutional, state, and federal levels, secure appropriate funding for research on issues in nursing education, the workforce crisis, and more. Determine how Congressional processes affect federal funding and budgeting. Dickson and Flynn provide the necessary tools to turn evidence based research into health policy. With these tools, researchers will not only improve their capacity to influence policy decisions but will take part in the advancement of the profession at large.

Translation of Evidence into Nursing and Healthcare Kathleen M. White, Sharon Dudley-Brown, Mary F.

Terhaar, 2024-05-03 2020 AJN Book of the Year Award Winner for Nursing Research. Named a Doody's Core Title. Serving as both a text for DNP students and an applied resource for practicing health professionals, this acclaimed text is grounded in an interprofessional approach to translating evidence into nursing and healthcare practice in both clinical and nonclinical environments. The fourth edition delivers fresh and updated content to describe the work of translation from initial planning through achieving a successful outcome. The text presents new exemplars for the most salient DNP projects and discusses how to implement initiatives into practice. Additionally, it is updated to reflect revised AACN Essentials and other national standards. The fourth edition continues to describe theoretical underpinnings and practical strategies to lead translation efforts and meet DNP core requirements. It serves as both a scaffold for the DNP project and as a roadmap for DNP students as they begin to practice nursing at the highest level. Thirty new examples of successful translation projects demonstrate the process of working through a problem from meticulous investigation of the evidence through careful planning, execution, evaluation, and dissemination of the work. New to the Fourth Edition: Presents abundant new examples addressing the most common DNP projects, particularly for NPs and other APRNs; Provides new content to support successful translation of evidence; Demonstrates in depth the process of working through a problem from start to finish; Updated to reflect revised AACN Essentials and other national standards; Addresses policy and how to implement initiatives into practice; Discusses recent revisions to commonly used organizing frameworks; Expands appraisal of evidence content to help faculty and students.

Relationship-based Social Work with Adults Heidi Dix, Sue Hollinrake, Jennifer Meade, 2025-02-28

There has been a resurgent interest in relationship based practice and the Care Act 2014 recognises the significance of effective working relationships with service users and carers to ensure a person centred approach and effective participation and co production. The Care Act advocates a strengths based whole family approach to assessment, care and support planning. Relationship putting the person at the centre of the process lies at the heart of this approach. This book is a practice based exploration of relationship based practice for social work with adults that looks at underpinning theory, legislation and policy drivers, value perspectives and skills in practice. The first part of the book introduces relationship based practice and theoretical concepts such as psycho social and psycho dynamically informed approaches to practice which highlight the complexities of relationships at conscious and unconscious levels both from the service user carer perspective.

and the professional's perspective where reflection and use of self are key it critically explores the legislation and policy context A conceptual model called IDEAS is introduced which provides a framework for the second part of the book by breaking down the discussion into relevant practice issues Here theory skills and values are applied through case examples to illustrate the efficacy of relationship based practice across a range of practice settings in social work with adult service users and carers Health Policy and Nursing Practice Linda H.
