Personality-shaping Through Positive Disintegration Kazimierz Dąbrowski, 1967      Summary of Kazimierz Dąbrowski's Personality-Shaping Through Positive Disintegration Everest Media, 2022-05-22T22:59:00Z Please note This is a companion version not the original book Sample Book Insights 1 The term self is of a metaphysical nature It is not clearly defined and is used in various senses It is the distinctness of the existence of a human being the source of his mental activity and the individual substratum of his mental structure 2 Personality is the name given to an individual who is developed and positive both with respect to the scope and level of the most essential positive human qualities Personality is not necessarily involved in various general human problems but if a person possesses it he embraces with his intellect sensitivity and activity all the truly essential problems of mankind 3 The problem of personality is to give a comprehensive conception of personality that is free from mutable and therefore nonessential qualities We attempt to base our conception on standards and human values that have been accepted and realized by man since the very beginning of his culture 4 The majority of humans are mixed types with positive and negative characteristics existing side by side in them However in general positive characteristics grow in strength and importance      Personality-Shaping Through Positive Disintegration Kazimierz Dąbrowski, 2015-06-05 For psychologist and psychiatrist Kazimierz Dąbrowski personality is not a given it must be consciously created and developed by the individual In his second English language book Personality Shaping Through Positive Disintegration first published in 1967 Dr Dąbrowski presents a comprehensive treatment of personality that is still relevant perhaps more so today than when it was first written Here Dąbrowski describes personality's individual and universal characteristics the methods involved in shaping it and case studies of famous personalities including Augustine and Michelangelo demonstrating the empirical and normative nature of personality development Included in this edition are the original introduction written by former APA president O Hobart Mowrer an appendix detailing a study on gifted children and outstanding abilities conducted by Dr Dąbrowski as well as previously unpublished biographical pieces analyzing the personalities of Beethoven Kierkegaard and Unamuno Grounded in Dąbrowski's theory of positive disintegration Personality Shaping introduces the concepts at the heart of the theory and at the heart of human potential creativity social service inner conflict mental illness and personal growth Dąbrowski's all embracing perspective is at once a fresh alternative to the one dimensional theories and trends pervasive in the field of psychology and a full statement in its own right of all those aspects of human nature too often marginalized ignored or denied a revolutionary and heartfelt product of Dr Dąbrowski's incisive observations and all embracing vision      Personality-shaping Through Positive Disintegration... Introd. by O. Kazimierz Dabrowski, Orval Hobart Mowrer, 1967      Positive Disintegration Kazimierz Dabrowski, 2018-07-30 Kazimierz Dabrowski refers to his view of personality development as the theory of positive disintegration Dabrowski feels that no growth takes place without previous disintegration He regards symptoms of anxiety psychoneurosis and even some symptoms of psychosis as the signs of the disintegration stage and therefore not always pathological      Dabrowski's Theory of Positive Disintegration Sal Mendaglio, 2008 This book summarizes the research and application of the Theory of Positive Disintegration one of the most influential theories in gifted education and compares it to other theories of personality and psychological development      Gifted Education as a Lifelong Challenge Franz J. Mönks, 2012 This book is dedicated to the scholar and academic teacher Franz Monks who is considered internationally to be one of the most brilliant giftedness researchers The wide spectrum of his writings and activities is reflected in the number of renowned international scholars who contributed to this unique collection of essays on gifted education as a life long challenge      Resilience, Psychoneuroimmunology, Neuropsychology Jayasankara Reddy, Sahen Gupta, Adithya Ramesh, 2021-05-01 An introductory research based edited volume on the intersections of Resilience Psychoneuroimmunology Neuropsychology in clinical settings which encompasses varied approaches and clinical disorders      Modern Eclectic Therapy: A Functional Orientation to Counseling and Psychotherapy Joseph Hart, 2012-12-06 This book is a hybrid it contains theoretical sections and sections devoted to technique it attempts to provide a historical perspective and to give a contemporary formulation of theory and practice and it discusses both practical problems of day by day therapy sessions and philosophical issues related to the meaning of psychotherapy in modern society In a way the book reflects in its own style and contents the subject it is about Eclectic therapy is certainly a hybrid of many strains of influence it is more diverse in its structures theories and techniques than any other therapeutic orientation Still eclectic therapy does have a definite consistency and coherency that I hope will be clearly revealed in this book The plan of the book is as follows In Part I I will present the arguments and evidence that there is a modern trend toward eclecticism among therapists and then in Part II tie this trend into the historical tradition of functionalism Both the common features of clinical functionalism and the specific ideas and methods of James Janet Burrow Taft and Thorne are presented I believe it will be a revelation to many readers to see the contemporary significance of the therapies practiced by these eclectic pioneers      Mental Growth Through Positive Disintegration Kazimierz Dąbrowski, Andrzej Kawczak, Michael Marian Piechowski, 1970      Living with Intensity Susan Daniels, Michael Marian Piechowski, 2009 This book describes the overexcitabilities often associated with gifted children and adults as well as strategies for dealing with children and adults who experience them It also provides essential information on Dabrowski's Theory of Positive Disintegration Learn practical methods for nurturing sensitivity intensity perfectionism      The Problem of Evil Sandra Ann Wawrytko, 2000 Annotation Comprises 18 revised studies based on presentations and discussions at the Fourth Conference of the International Society for Philosophy and Psychotherapy held in Montreal Canada in June 1994

Contributions to the five sections address evil in Asian thought Western theories of evil evil and cosmic order the psychology of evil and the practice of evil Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR     Theory of Levels of Emotional Development Kazimierz Dąbrowski, Michael Marian Piechowski, 1977     The Palgrave Handbook of Transformational Giftedness for Education Robert J Sternberg, Don Ambrose, Sareh Karami, 2022-04-23 This handbook examines what education would look like if it prepared gifted students to transform the world to make it a better place for all not just for those who receive extra resources from schools in return for being labeled as gifted The editors explore how transformationally gifted people can seek to make the world a better and more just place they try to make a positive meaningful and possibly enduring contribution to changing things in the world that are not working They do not view giftedness merely as a transaction whereby in exchange for being labeled as gifted they accrue benefits to themselves such as a more prestigious education more income or residence in a more exclusive community The overarching aim of this book is to present conceptions of what identification and instruction of the gifted would look like if the focus of gifted education was transformational rather than transactional What if gifted education did not focus so much on acceleration vs enrichment or pull out versus in class integration but rather on how to be gifted in giving back in using one's gifts to create a better world
