The immune system comprises a series of organs cells and chemical messengers which work together as a team to provide defence against infection. Klenerman discusses these components the critical signals that trigger them and how they exert their protective effects including so called innate immune responses which react very fast to infection and adaptive immune responses which have huge diversity and a capacity to recognize and defend against a massive array of micro organisms. Klenerman also considers what happens when our immune systems fail to be activated effectively leading to serious infections problems with inherited diseases and also HIV AIDS. At the opposite extreme as Klenerman shows an over exaggerated immune response leads to inflammatory diseases such as Multiple Sclerosis and Rheumatoid Arthritis as well as allergy and asthma. Finally he looks at the Immune system v2 o how immune therapies and vaccines can be advanced to protect us against the major diseases of the 21st century.
