Online safety Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Culture, Media and Sport Committee,2014-03-19 The Culture Media and Sport Committee s inquiry has focused on three disparate aspects of online content and behaviour all of which are of widespread concern illegal content especially images of child abuse harmful adult content being made freely available to children bullying and harassment on social media The Committee praises the work of the Child Exploitation and Online Protection CEOP Command now part of the new National Crime Agency and the Internet

Watch Foundation but calls for more resources to be devoted to their valuable work All three elements of CEOP s mission education social care and criminal justice need to be actively pursued and publicised Tracing paedophiles who share images on peer to peer networks and the so called hidden internet continues to challenge both the police and the internet service providers Legal adult pornography is widely consumed but children should be protected from viewing that material Legal adult sites could restrict access by children in a number of ways Age verification is important and whilst filters may not be failsafe they continue to improve and are an important way of protecting children from harmful content Ofcom has an important role in monitoring internet content and advising the public on online safety and more needs to be done to signpost the advice and educational resources available to both parents and teachers Today one in five 12 16 year olds think being bullied online is part of life Social media providers should offer a range of prominently displayed options for and routes to reporting harmful content and communications Admap ,2010 Hotel & Catering Review ,2009 Library Journal ,2009 About Imaginary Borders Stefanie Dalvai,2020-12-15 Diploma Thesis from the year 2020 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 1 University of Innsbruck language English abstract Othering is a language process which does not only occur in spoken language but also in written Nowadays such a negative portrayal and creation of the perfect other is often happening in a rather hidden and indirect manner This paper explores whether Donald J

Trump indulged in the act of Othering in his Tweets and whether this happened in a direct or indirect way The findings lead to an understanding whether Othering is being accepted in politics or not What comes as a blessing has also its downsides as not only positive but also negative opinions are omnipresent on the internet This is due to the possibility to upload almost everything as not every website has a way to censor inappropriate content Furthermore having a filter for written or pictured hate crime does not prevent it from happening as it is not always straight forward and hateful messages can come in disguise An uncountable number of these more or less hidden hate crimes are a sort of Othering as people tend to put themselves in opposition to others to create a sense of solidarity with those who share sameness and to have some excuse to keep up power relationships With this it becomes clear that language itself in the case of this paper explicitly the written one is a powerful tool to exert authority and domination on others especially when used by people in power like politicians Therefore the question this paper tries to answer is how written discourse in the Tweets of Trump creates the feeling of separation and dominance that underlies the act of Othering and whether this reflects a direct or indirect and with this more subtle and normalized use of power discourse In this thesis only those people Trump constantly portrays as dangerous foreigners intruders therefore not Americans are included in the analysis by looking at how he structures his discourse around them These include Mexicans and Muslims both to be found under the umbrella term of illegal immigrants How Companies Win Rick Kash,David Calhoun,2010-10-12 In a world of contracting markets and diminished consumer demand The Cambridge Group founder Rick Kash and Nielsen Company CEO David Calhoun show companies how to find new customers
