Africa in the Age of Biology Wilmut Godfrey James, 2004 This paper was presented as the first annual John Gerhart Memorial Lecture at the conference of the Africa Genome Initiative held in Cairo in March 2004 In Africa in the Age of Biology Dr James discusses Africa's long history of scientific technological and mathematical enterprise from tokens of the very earliest counting by humans to the sum of knowledge brought to bear in the construction of the pyramids But he focuses on the challenges of today and tomorrow which he suggests Africa's leaders and scholars dare not overlook Dr James argues that Africa stands challenged to act on its own initiative to focus investment beyond the scale of NEPAD's initiatives provide political leadership and direct scholarly attention on making the most of genetic developments for the benefit of its populations

COVID-19 and women's intersectionalities in Africa Ashwanee Budoo-Scholtz, Adetokunbo Johnson, 2023-05-23 COVID 19 has become one of the most severe issues dominating discussions on the agendas of states globally and across the African continent since its emergence in 2019 The COVID 19 pandemic has regrettably brought into sharp focus the continued multiple and intersecting forms of discrimination faced by women and girls in Africa because of their intersecting identities Yet paradoxically although African women are disproportionately affected by the crisis they are largely invisible in the responses Several African states and governments have taken different policy measures in response to the pandemic These responses have taken different dimensions including shutting down economies imposition of lockdowns coercive quarantine measures with police enforcement and criminal consequences for offenders violating these rules Unfortunately these responses have reinforced and amplified women's disproportionate disadvantage and gender inequalities in Africa Against this backdrop this book asks the intersectional question about women's experiences during the COVID 19 pandemic in Africa Applying an intersectional human rights lens involves questioning how the intersecting identities that African women embody affect their experiences of the COVID 19 pandemic
