Resources in Education, 1997    Annual Review of Nursing Research, Volume 37, 2018-12-28 One of the most challenging aspects of the current healthcare system especially for nurses is cultural diversity across a variety of societies. Nurses, caregivers and other practitioners must be equipped and aware of their patients' cultural background in order to respond appropriately and sensitively while providing the proper care. Clearly the techniques and beliefs within cultures are highly diverse, requiring those providing care to possess knowledge that allows them to combine global and cultural practices into their day to day occupation. This consists of not only learning cultural differences and similarities but examining nursing throughout other parts of the world and the health problems being faced in different geographical settings. This volume is intended to provide nurses, physicians, specialists and providers with the information needed to provide capable care and treatment to individuals of diverse cultures. Each chapter author was selected for their interest and knowledge of transcultural and social research. The content of this volume provides a look at classic contributions to the field, up to date research, and evaluates the impact of diverse cultures on issues that may affect nursing and health care such as Key Topics, Leininger's Culture Care Diversity and Universality, The Current State of Transcultural Nursing, Transcultural Mental Health Nursing, Culture and Consent in Clinical Care, Obesity Among African Immigrant Populations, Cultural Factors Influencing Suicidal Thoughts and Behaviors.
