Ideal for business leaders, strategists, and professionals.

Road to Nowhere Paris Marx, 2025-08-12 How to build a transportation system to provide mobility for all. Road to Nowhere exposes the flaws in Silicon Valley's vision of the future ride hailing services such as Uber and Lyft to take us anywhere electric cars to make them green and automation to ensure transport is cheap and ubiquitous. Such promises are implausible and potentially dangerous. As Paris Marx shows, these technological visions are a threat to our ideas of what a society should be. Electric cars are not a silver bullet for sustainability and autonomous vehicles won't guarantee road safety. There will not be underground tunnels to eliminate traffic congestion and micromobility services will not replace car travel any sooner than we will see the arrival of the long awaited flying car. In response, Marx offers a vision for a more collective way of organizing transportation systems that considers the needs of poor, marginalized, and vulnerable people. The book argues that rethinking mobility can be the first step in a broader reimaging of how we design and live in our future cities. We must create streets that allow for social interaction and conviviality. We need reasons to get out of our cars and to use public means of transit determined by community needs rather than algorithmic control. Such decisions should be guided by the search for quality of life rather than for profit.

That Reminds Me of a Story James E. Collins, 2023-11-14 I probably watch too much news, read too many newspapers, magazines, and blogs, and have too many conversations with people about politics. Often in my mind, I consider myself better than politicians. I may be better than some, but not all of them. What I notice is that I make similar mistakes to those in charge. Because of this, I'm willing to say I'm not perfect. And I have the experiences to prove it. Join me in a journey to tell people why I should not run for public office nor should I receive any write-in votes in the next election. If you do opt for writing my name in on your ballot and are uncertain how to ask for assistance from the helpful people at your voting location and write in my full name, James E. Collins. You may not change an election, but maybe it will change your outlook knowing that you can vote for whom you want to, not someone you are being told to vote for. As an afterthought, please don't tell me about ending a sentence with a preposition. I tend to do that.

Urban Mobility Shauna Brail, Betsy Donald, 2024-08-30 Urban Mobility sheds light on mobility in twenty first century Canadian cities. The book explores the profound changes associated with technological innovation, pandemic induced impacts on travel behaviour, and the urgent need for mobility to respond meaningfully to the climate crisis. Featuring contributions from leading Canadian and

American scholars and researchers this edited collection traverses disciplines including geography engineering management policy studies political science and urban planning Chapters illuminate novel research findings related to a variety of modes of mobility including public transit e scooters bike sharing ride hailing and autonomous vehicles Contributors draw out the connections between urban challenges technological change societal need and governance mechanisms The collection demonstrates why the smart phone COVID 19 and climate present a crucial lens through which we can understand the present and future of urban mobility The way we move in cities has been disrupted and altered because of technological innovation the lingering impacts of COVID 19 and efforts to reduce transport related emissions Urban Mobility concludes that the path forward requires good public policy from all levels of government working in partnership with the private sector and non profits to direct and address the best urban mobility framework for Canadian cities
