Mediating Identities In Eighteenth Century England:

Mediating Identities in Eighteenth-century England Anja Müller, Isabel Karremann, 2011 Through case studies from diverse fields of cultural studies this collection examines how different constructions and concepts of identity were mediated in England in the long eighteenth century. Central to the project is consideration of the ways historically specific categories of identity determined by class gender nationality political factions and age are negotiated through and interact with the media available at the time including novels newspapers trial reports images and the theatre

Daniel Defoe and the Representation of Personal Identity Christopher Borsing, 2016-08-25 The concept of a personal identity was a contentious issue in the early eighteenth century. John Locke's philosophical discussion of personal identity in An Essay Concerning Human Understanding fostered a public debate upon the status of an immortal Christian soul. This book argues that Defoe like many of this age had religious difficulties with Locke's empiricist analysis of human identity. In particular it examines how Defoe explores competitive individualism as a social threat while also demonstrating the literary and psychological fiction of any concept of a separated lone identity. This foreshadows Michel Foucault's assertion that the idea of man is a recent invention a figure not yet two centuries old a new wrinkle in our knowledge. The monograph's engagement with Defoe's destabilization of any definition or image of personal identity across a wide range of genres including satire political propaganda history conduct literature travel narrative spiritual autobiography piracy and history economic and scientific literature rogue biography scandalous and secret history dystopian documentary science fiction and apparition narrative is an important and original contribution to the literary and cultural understanding of the early eighteenth century as it interrogates and challenges modern presumptions of individual identity

Adaptation, Intermediality and the British

Celebrity Biopic Márta Minier, Maddalena Pennacchia, 2016-03-23 Beginning with the premise that the biopic is a form of adaptation and an example of intermediality this collection examines the multiplicity of source texts and the convergence of different media in this genre alongside the concurrent issues of fidelity and authenticity that accompany this form. The contributors focus on big and small screen biopics of British celebrities from the late twentieth and twenty first centuries attending to their myth making and myth breaking potential. Related topics are the contemporary British biopic's participation in the production and consumption of celebrated lives and the biopic's generic fluidity and hybridity as evidenced in its relationship to such forms as the bio docudrama. Offering case studies of film biographies of literary and cultural icons including Elizabeth I Elizabeth II Diana Princess of Wales John Lennon Shakespeare Jane Austen Beau Brummel Carrington and Beatrix Potter the essays address how British identity and heritage are interrogated in the re telling and showing of these lives and how the reimagining of famous lives for the screen is influenced by recent processes of manufacturing celebrity

The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History Bonnie G. Smith,2008-01-23 The Encyclopedia of Women in World History captures the experiences of women throughout world history in a comprehensive 4 volume work Although there has been extensive research on women in history by region no text or reference work has comprehensively covered the role women have played throughout world history The past thirty years have seen an explosion of research and effort to present the experiences and contributions of women not only in the Western world but across the globe Historians have investigated womens daily lives in virtually every region and have researched the leadership roles women have filled across time and region They have found and demonstrated that there is virtually no historical social or demographic change in which women have not been involved and by which their lives have not been affected The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History benefits greatly from these efforts and experiences and illuminates how women worldwide have influenced and been influenced by these historical social and demographic changes The Encyclopedia contains over 1 250 signed articles arranged in an A Z format for ease of use The entries cover six main areas biographies geography and history comparative culture and society including adoption abortion performing arts organizations and movements such as the Egyptian Uprising and the Paris Commune womens and gender studies and topics in world history that include slave trade globalization and disease With its rich and insightful entries by leading scholars and experts this reference work is sure to be a valued go to resource for scholars college and high school students and general readers alike

Spectacular Flirtations Gillian Perry,2007 During the Georgian period there was a remarkable proliferation of seductive visual imagery and written accounts of female performers Focusing on the close relationship between the dramatic and visual arts at this time this beautiful and stimulating book explores popular ideas of the actress as coquette whore celebrity muse and creative agent charting her important symbolic role in contemporary attempts to professionalize both the theatre and the practice of fine art Gill Perry shows how artists such as Gainsborough Reynolds Hoppner or Lawrence produced complex images of female performers as fashion icons coquettes dignified queens or creative artists The result is a rich interdisciplinary study of the Georgian actress Published for the Paul Mellon Centre for Studies in British Art

Multiculturalism and the American Self William Q. Boelhower, Alfred Hornung, 2000 The articles of this volume which derive from two symposia held under the auspices of the Erasmus cooperation among seven European universities address issues of the inter and intracultural relations of different ethnic groups in America from the colonial period to the present time In addition to the intercultural contacts between European settlers and immigrants on the one hand and minority groups on the other hand emphasis is also given to the intercultural relations within white American literature The common thread in all of these multicultural productions is the formation of an American self Treatments of encounters between white settlers and Native Americans in the colonial period are set next to analyses of the minority works ranging from the poetry of Phillis Wheatley in the early republic to questions of gender in slave narratives to the fictions of Nella Larsen Alice Walker Toni Morrison Gerald Vizenor and Chicana writers The implicit often unintentional stirrings of multiculturalism are the subject of articles on Henry Adams Henry James Thomas Wolfe and Paul Green Finally the volume includes discussions of multicultural stereotypes which determine the construction of American selfhood in such motion pictures as Pocahontas Forrest Gump and Malcolm X
