Moss,1995-12-27 The proliferation of college guidebooks and reputational rankings has become of increasing concern to many in the higher education community Public relations and admissions staff view such publications from a marketing perspective and the potential positive or negative consequences for enrollment College presidents share these concerns along with the broader implications for the overall stature of their institutions The validity and integrity of the information reported is of particular interest to those who work in the area of institutional research Acknowledging the fact that the public the consumers has a great need for information about different institutions in order to make informed college choices for themselves or their children all of these groups in higher education share alarm about the burden imposed on institutions in responding to the ever increasing number of publishers requesting information for these guidebooks and rankings This volume explores some of the major facets of and issues surrounding college guidebooks and ratings The background and development of these publications are traced followed by discussion of major issues and perspectives consumer use of the publications validity of ratings and the institutional burden of supplying the needed information View from both the institutions and the publishers are presented This is the 88th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Institutional Research For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals page      Academic Quality Rankings of American Colleges and Universities David S. Webster,1986      The Alumni Factor The Alumni Factor,2013-09-10 This book began with a simple premise that there is a better way to assess and rank colleges and universities in America than those currently being offered The primary outcomes of most of today's rankings are 1 To provide readers a view of what life is like as an undergraduate and 2 To give insight into who comes into the college The Alumni Factor on the other hand is more interested in who comes out The aim of this guide is to describe how well a college or university actually develops and shapes its students and what becomes of them after they graduate The Alumni Factor is interested in the actual outcomes experienced by college graduates and the role their college played in creating those outcomes The Alumni Factor believes this information regarding graduate outcomes is truly essential to understanding and assessing our colleges and universities today In line with these goals The Alumni Factor provides a detailed in depth profile of graduates from 225 of our nations top colleges The profiles were constructed almost entirely with data and insights from the actual college alumni themselves Readers will find The Alumni Factor to be a fascinating look at the incredibly diverse academic social and cultural choices available to capable students today Educational Rankings Annual 2005 Gale Group,2004-09 This up to date resource presents more than 4 000 national regional local and international lists and rankings compiled from hundreds of respected sources Entries typically include a description of the ranking background information on criteria for establishing the hierarchy additional remarks about the ranking the complete or partial if extensive ranking and a complete source citation for locating additional information if necessary Educational Rankings Annual 2006 Westney,Lynn C.
