Beaches Notetaking Guide

A beach is the place where the ocean meets the land. It is an actively changing ecosystem as the waves and tides bring in organisms to join or pass through the ecosystem.

The shorebirds, crabs, and turtles that called sandy beaches home are different than the starfish, oysters, and seaweed that call rocky beaches home.

Shorebirds are another familiar beacon you can find along sideways across sandpipers avoiding them.

Guide

Walking along a beach and looking observations about the objects and organisms that come ashore, or beachcombing is a way to learn more about the ecosystem.

A common discovery you might make on a sandy beach are calcium carbonate seashells that invertebrates like mollusks create to protect their soft-tissue.

Portuguese man-o-war jellyfish are another invertebrate hydr that uses its tentacles to catch its food.
