The Classroom and the Crowd Al Filreis,2025-11-25 For more than a decade Al Filreis has taught a free online course about experimental poetry known as ModPo that has drawn some 435 000 students from 179 countries Online classes even a fraction of ModPo s size have been criticized as impersonal and unengaging But the citizens of ModPo have formed a generous and enduring intellectual community as together they read poems typically dismissed as difficult and inaccessible In The Classroom and the Crowd Filreis reflects on his decades of experience as a founder of participatory literary communities and teacher of online courses demonstrating that student centered education offers new possibilities for humane social networking Introducing readers to ModPo participants and their open ended round the clock conversations he shows how online learning can not only be accessible and educational but also deepen our commitment to democracy Filreis argues that the emphasis on collaborative learning space for discussion and the inherent openness of poetry allows for a sense of community continuity and even intimacy that often eludes other online educational endeavors ModPo embodies principles underlying both modern poetics and cooperative education Writers and readers like teachers and learners create meaning together many voices are clearer than one and democracy is a creative practice Proposing an optimistic vision of mass learning this book contends that asynchronous education has surprising advantages over the traditional classroom that panics about a crisis of attention and the death of reading are overblown and that instead of logging off we should all start reading with a crowd

Creativity for Library Career Advancement Vera Gubnitskaia,Carol Smallwood,2019-06-18 Creativity is just connecting things observed Steve Jobs In today s diverse ever changing job market creativity is more necessary than ever In a profession offering a broad range of job opportunities librarians are surrounded by myriad connections to be made They are trained to recognize them This collection of new essays covers a wide spectrum of methods for cultivating creativity Topics include learning through role playing games libraries as publishers setting up and using makerspaces developing in house support for early career staff creating travelling exhibits creative problem solving and organizing no cost conferences The Composition Commons Jessica Yood,2024-04-26 The Composition Commons delivers a timely take on invigorating higher education illustrating how college composition courses can be dynamic sites for producing a democratic just and generally educated public Jessica Yood traces the century long origins of a writing centered idea of the American university and tracks the resurgence of this idea today Drawing on archival and classroom evidence from public colleges and universities and written in a lively autoethnographic voice Yood names genres of the commons intimate informal writing activities that create peer to peer knowledge networks She shows how these unique genres create collectivity an academic commons and calls on scholars to invest in composition as a course cultivating reflective emergent shared knowledge Yood departs from movements that divest from the first year composition classroom and details how an increasingly diverse student population composes complex evolving cultural literacies that forge social bonds and forward innovation and intellectual and civic engagement The Composition Commons reclaims the commons as critical idea and writing classroom activities as essential practices for remaking higher education in the United States

The SIOP Model for Administrators Deborah Short,2008 Doctoral Education and the Faculty of the Future Ronald G.

Ehrenberg,Charlotte V. Kuh,2011-05-02 American colleges and universities simultaneously face large numbers of faculty retirements and expanding enrollments Budget constraints have led colleges and universities to substitute part time and full time non tenure track faculty for tenure track faculty and the demand for faculty members will likely be high in the decade ahead This heightened demand is coming at a time when the share of American college graduates who go on for PhD study is far below its historic high The declining interest of American students in doctoral programs is due to many factors including long completion times low completion rates the high cost of doctoral education and the decline in the share of faculty positions that are tenured or on the tenure track In short doctoral education is in crisis because the impediments are many and the rewards are few students often choose instead to enroll in professional programs that result in more marketable credentials In Doctoral Education and the Faculty of the Future scientists social scientists academic administrators and policy makers describe their efforts to increase and improve the supply of future faculty They cover topics ranging from increasing undergraduate interest in doctoral study to improving the doctoral experience and the participation of underrepresented groups in doctoral education RILM Abstracts of Music Literature International Repertory of Music Literature (Organization),1997 A comprehensive ongoing guide to publications on music from all over the world with abstracts written in English All scholarly works are included articles books bibliographies catalogues dissertations Festschriften films and videos iconographies critical commentaries to complete works ethnographic recordings conference proceedings electronic resources and reviews Commerce Business Daily ,2001-08 Urban Commons Mary

Dellenbaugh, Markus Kip, Majken Bieniok, Agnes Müller, Martin Schwegmann, 2015-06-16 Urban space is a commons simultaneously a sphere of human cooperation and negotiation and its product Understanding urban space as a commons means that the much sought after productivity of the city precedes rather than results from strategies of the state and capital This approach challenges assumptions of urbanization as capital driven an idea which resonates with a range of recent urban social movements from the Arab Spring and the Occupy movement to the Right to the City alliance However commons exist in a tense relationship with state and market both of which continually seek to exploit and control them Initiatives to create commons are welcomed and even facilitated by governments in order to re valorize urban space and lessen the impacts of economic restructuring while at the same time the creative and reproductive potential of the urban commons is undermined by continuing attempts to commodify them This volume examines these topics theoretically and empirically through a wide spectrum of international case studies providing perspectives from a variety of cities as diverse as Berlin Hyderabad and Seoul A wider discussion of commons in current scientific and activist literature from housing public space to urban infrastructure is explored through the lens of the urban condition
