

Grants vs Scholarships?

Scholarships: Earned Support for Your Goals

✓ Based on merit, need, or personal background

Scholarships can be awarded for good grades, financial need, leadership, talents, community service, or even your major or hometown.

✓ Available from many sources

You can find scholarships through NETC, local businesses, nonprofits, religious groups, and national organizations.

✓ You apply for them

Most scholarships require an application, a short essay, or a recommendation. But trust us—it's worth it!

Grants: Free Money Based on Financial Need

✓ Usually based on your income

Grants are typically awarded through the federal government or your state, based on your FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid).

✓ No essays, no extras

Grants like the Pell Grant are automatically considered when you fill out the FAFSA. No extra steps required.

✓ More support is possible

Depending on your situation, you may qualify for multiple grants, especially if you're a first-time or returning adult student.

✓ Bottom Line: You Don't Have to Go It Alone

Both scholarships and grants are forms of free money for school. You don't have to pay them back, and they can take a big burden off your finances. Most students use a mix of both to cover tuition, books, and other costs.

Start with the FAFSA. Then, apply for scholarships. NETC can help you every step of the way.
