These new features will be accompanied by a new interface that is more consistent with existing interfaces and supports good practices. The application will be developed using a component-based architecture, allowing separate development of graphical user interface, business logic, and data access layers. The graphical user interface will be built using Java Swing, while the business logic and data access layers will be developed using Java Enterprise Edition (JEE) technologies, such as JavaServer Faces (JSF), Java Persistence API (JPA), and Java Data Objects (JDO). The application will be deployed on a Java-based application server, such as GlassFish or JBoss Seam, and will be accessible via a web browser.
