New Materialism Rick Dolphijn, Iris van der Tuin, 2012      Methods and Genealogies of New Materialisms Iris van der Tuin, Felicity Colman, 2024-02-01 This cumulative work brings together a range of research communities to contextualize and archive over a decade of work in new materialist theorising and knowledge making practice Combining a reflective genealogical approach along with productive avenues for future research this volume is an essential collection for the field of new and feminist materialism The collection uses the new materialist movements in thought of changing intersecting practicing and transforming As methods these movements have engendered the metaphysical questions that different new and feminist materialist practices engage The volume follows these four movements for genealogical interdisciplinary arts based and politics orienting research in four parts each of which is preceded by an introductory framing essay Rosi Braidotti's preface provides revelatory mappings to bring the book together and curated panels further offer co authored texts which practise the collective nature of academic thinking advocated by the feminist new materialisms network      Global Citizenship, Common Wealth and Uncommon Citizenships , 2018-08-16 This set of essays critically analyze global citizenship by bringing together leading ideas about citizenship and the commons in this time that both needs and resists a global perspective on issues and relations Education plays a significant role in how we come to address these issues and this volume will contribute to ensuring that equity global citizenship and the common wealth provide platforms from which we might engage in transformational collective work The authors address the global significance of debates and struggles about belonging and abjection solidarity and rejection identification and othering as well as love and hate Global citizenship as a concept and a practice is now being met with a dangerous call for insularism and a protracted ethno nationalism based on global economic imperialism movements for white supremacy and miscegenation various forms of religious extremism and identity politics but which antithetically also comes from the anti globalization movement focused on building strong sustainable communities We see a taming of citizens that contributes to the taming of what we understand as the public sphere and the commons the places of cultural natural and intellectual resources that are shared and not privately owned The work of global citizenship education is distinguishable from the processes of a deadly globalization or destruction of the world that responds to the interlocking issues that make life on the planet precarious for human and non humans everywhere albeit an unequal precarity This book is an invitation into a conversation that explores and makes visible some of the hidden chasms of oppression and inequity in the world It is meant to provoke both argument and activism as we work to secure common spaces that are broadly life sustaining Contributors are Ali A Abdi Sung Kyung Ahn Chouaib El Bouhali Xochilt Hernandez Carrie Karsgaard Marlene McKay Michael O Sullivan Christina Palech Karen Pashby Karen J Pheasant Neganigwane Thashika Pillay Ashley Rerrie Grace J Rwiza Toni Samek Lynette Shultz Harry Smaller Crain Soudien Derek Tannis and Irene Friesen Wolfstone      Children and the Power of Stories Carmen Blyth, Teresa K. Aslanian, 2022-03-04 This book explores how stretching stories through posthuman and autoethnographic perspectives can produce new stories that decolonialize traditional thinking and approaches to Early Childhood Education (ECE). It demonstrates how stories can provide a different way of knowing and a way of knowing differently, a way of decolonializing current discourses of early childhood education within educational institutions. The book uses research and practice in ECE to act as a canvas, a context with which to explore how autoethnography can become other when viewed through a posthumanist lens. As a consequence, the chapters and stories within allow for an interplay between the posthumanist and the autoethnographic, an interplay that allows for a very specific type of meaning to emerge, a meaning that traffics in numerous and disruptive possibilities rather than settled certainties. In so doing, authors rethink and perturb the notion of child-centered approaches to knowing, becoming and doing within the Early Childhood Education context.

Go Be a Writer! Candace R. Kuby, Tara Gutshall Rucker, 2016-04-15 This book provides an introduction to poststructural and posthumanist theories in order to imagine new possibilities for expanding literacy education. The authors put to work these theories in the context of an elementary school classroom, examining literacy-based activities that occur as students participate with materials in a multimedia writers studio. Focusing on literacy processes, the book emphasizes the fluid and sometimes unintentional ways multimodal artifacts come into being through intra-actions with human and nonhuman materials. Because these theories emphasize the unplanned, nonlinear aspects of literacy, the authors demonstrate an approach to literacy that works against the grain of standardization and rigid curricular models. Go Be a Writer reveals that when educators appreciate the value of unscripted intra-actions, they allow for more authentic learning.

Posthuman Property and Law Jannice Käll, 2022-07-28 This book analyses the phenomenon of digitally mediated property and considers how it problematises the boundary between human and nonhuman actors. The book addresses the increasingly porous border between personhood and property in digitized settings and considers how the increased commodification of knowledge makes visible a rupture in the liberal concept of the property-owning free person. Engaging with the latest work in posthumanist and new materialist theory, it shows how property as a concept as well as a means for control changes fundamentally under advanced capitalism. Such change is exemplified by the way in which data as an object of commodification is extracted from human activities yet is also directly used to affectively control or nudge humans. Taking up a range of human engagements with digital platforms and coded architectures as well as the circulation of affects through practices of artificial intelligence that are employed to shape behaviour, the book argues that property now needs to be understood according to an ecology of human as well as nonhuman actors. The idea of posthuman property then offers both a means to critique property control through digital technologies as well as to move beyond the notion of the self-owning object-owning human. Engaging the most challenging contemporary technological developments, this book will appeal to researchers in the areas of Law and Technology, Legal Theory, Intellectual Property Law, Legal Philosophy, Sociology of Law, Sociology and Media Studies.

The Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Feminism Tasha Oren, Andrea

Press,2019-05-16 Feminism as a method a movement a critique and an identity has been the subject of debates contestations and revisions in recent years yet contemporary global developments and political upheavals have again refocused feminism s collective force What is feminism now How do scholars and activists employ contemporary feminism What feminist traditions endure Which are no longer relevant in addressing contemporary global conditions In this interdisciplinary collection scholars reflect on how contemporary feminism has shaped their thinking and their field as they interrogate its uses limits and reinventions Organized as a set of questions over definition everyday life critical intervention and political activism the Handbook takes on a broad set of issues and points of view to consider what feminism is today and what current forces shape its future development It also includes an extended conversation among major feminist thinkers about the future of feminist scholarship and activism The scholars gathered here address a wide variety of topics and contexts activism from post Soviet collectives to the Arab spring to the MeToo movement sexual harassment feminist art film and digital culture education technology policy sexual practices and gender identity Indispensable for scholars undergraduate and postgraduate students in women gender and sexuality the collection offers a multidimensional picture of the diversity and utility of feminist thought in an age of multiple uncertainties

Performing Resilience for Systemic Pain Meghan Moe Beitiks,2021-12-30 How might performance serve as a means for facing ubiquitous trauma and pain in humans and ecologies While reflecting on her multidisciplinary work Systems of Pain Networks of Resilience artist Meghan Moe Beitiks considers bodies of knowledge in Trauma Theory Intersectional Feminist Philosophy Ecology Disability Studies New Materialism Object Oriented Ontology Gender Studies Artistic Research Psychology Performance Studies Social Justice Performance Philosophy Performance Art and a series of first person interviews in an attempt to answer that question Beitiks brings us through the first person process of making the work and the real life embodied encounters with the theories explored within it as an expansion of the work itself Facing down difficult issues like trauma discrimination and the vulnerability of the body Beitiks looks to commonalities across species and disciplines as means of developing resilience and cultivating communities Rather than paint a picture of glorious potential utopias Beitiks takes a hard look at herself as an embodiment of the values explored in the work and stays with the difficult sucky troubling work to be done Performing Resilience for Systemic Pain is a vulnerable book about the quiet presence and hard looking needed to shift systems away from their oppressive destructive realities

Literacies, Literature and Learning Karin Murris,Joanna Haynes,2018-06-13 Literacies Literature and Learning Reading Classrooms Differently attends to pressing questions in literacy education such as the poor quality of many children s experiences as readers routine disregard for their thinking and the degrading impact of narrow skills measurement and comparison This cutting edge book moves beyond social psychological and scientific categories that focus on individualistic and linear notions of the knowing subject of progress and development and of child as less than fully human It adopts a posthumanist framework to explore new perspectives for teaching learning and research Authors from diverse disciplines and continents have collaborated to interrogate the colonising characteristics of humanism and to imagine a different more just reading of a literacy classroom Questions of de colonisation are tackled through the exploration of both education and research practices that seek to de centre the human and include the more than human Inspired by an example of high quality children s literature playful philosophical teaching and the power of the material the authors show how the chapters diffract with one another thereby opening up radical possibilities for a different doing of childhood The book hopes to help transform adult child relationships in schools and universities As such it should be of great interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the areas of literacy philosophy law education the wider social sciences the arts health sciences and architecture It should also be essential reading for teacher educators and practitioners around the world Rhetorical

Animals Kristian Bjørkdahl,Alex C. Parrish,2017-11-30 For this edited volume the editors solicited chapters that investigate the place of nonhuman animals in the purview of rhetorical theory what it would mean to communicate beyond the human community how rhetoric reveals our brute roots In other words this book investigates themes that enlighten us about likely or possible implications of the animal turn within rhetorical studies The present book is unique in its focus on the call for nonanthropocentrism in rhetorical studies Although there have been many hints in recent years that rhetoric is beginning to consider the implications of the animal turn as yet no other anthology makes this its explicit starting point and sustained objective Thus the various contributions to this book promise to further the ongoing debate about what rhetoric might be after it sheds its long standing humanistic bias Analyse critique et féminismes matérialistes Annie Bidet-Mordrel,Elsa scholar or a student However these claims have not always been based on strong research evidence What are students and scholars actually doing in the day to day life of the digital university This book examines in detail how the world of the digital interacts with texts artefacts devices and humans in the contemporary university setting Weaving together perspectives from a range of thinkers and disciplinary sources Lesley Gourlay draws on ideas from posthuman and new materialist theory in particular to open up our understanding about how digital knowledge practices operate She proposes that digital engagement in the university should not be regarded as virtual or disembodied but instead may be understood as a complex set of entanglements of the body texts and material artefacts making a case that agency and the ways in which knowledge emerges should be regarded as more than human

Creative Ecologies Hélène Frichot, 2018-12-13 Architect and philosopher Hélène Frichot examines how the discipline of architecture is theorized and practiced at the periphery Eschewing a conventionally direct approach to architectural objects to iconic buildings and big name architects she instead explores the background of architectural practice to introduce the creative ecologies in which architecture exists only in relation to other objects and ideas Consisting of a series of philosophical encounters with architectural practice that are neither neatly located in one domain nor the other this book is concerned with other ways of doing architecture It examines architecture at the limits where it is muddled by alternative disciplinary influences whether art practice philosophy or literature Frichot meets a range of creative characters who work at the peripheries and who challenge the central assumptions of the discipline showing that there is no core of architecture there is rather architecture as a multiplicity of diverse concerns in engagement with local environments and worlds From an author well known in the disciplines of architecture and philosophy for her scholarship on Deleuze this is a radical accessible and highly original approach to design research deftly engaging with an array of current topics from the Anthropocene to affect theory new materialism to contemporary feminism

Generational Feminism Iris van der Tuin, 2015 Iris van der Tuin redirects the notion of generational logic in feminism away from its simplistic conception as conflict towards a more nuanced conception of the methodology's useful structures Experimenting with generational logic as an impetus for a new materialism this book

The Subject of Rosi Braidotti Bolette Blaagaard, Iris van der Tuin, 2015-07-30 The Subject of Rosi Braidotti Politics and Concepts brings into focus the diverse influence of the work of Rosi Braidotti on academic fields in the humanities and the social sciences such as the study and scholarship in among others feminist theory political theory continental philosophy philosophy of science and technology cultural studies ethnicity and race studies Inspired by Braidotti's philosophy of nomadic relations of embodied thought the volume is a mapping exercise of productive engagements and instructive interactions by a variety of international outstanding and world renowned scholars with texts and concepts developed by Braidotti throughout her immense body of work In Braidotti's work traversing themes of engagements emerge of politics and philosophy across generations and continents Therefore the edited volume invites prominent scholars at different stages of their careers and from around the world to engage with Braidotti's work in terms of concepts and or political practice      Philosophy After Nature Rosi Braidotti, Rick Dolphijn, 2017-06-23 The significant changes that have dominated the social and the scientific world over the last thirty years have brought about upheavals and critical re appraisals that have proved quite positive in fostering 21st century thought This interdisciplinary collection of state of the art essays offers innovative and thought provoking insights concerning contemporary philosophical and cultural reflection on the nature culture interaction Starting from the assumption that the binary opposition between the two terms has been replaced by a continuum of the two the volume explores both the terms of this new interaction and its implications Technology occupies a central place in the shift towards a nature cultural continuum but it is not the only factor The consequences of economic globalization notably the global spread of digital mediation also account for this change of perspective Last but not least the climate change issue and a renewed urgency around the state of the environmental crisis also contribute to bring the natural much closer to home Digital mediation has by now become a standard way to live and interact The electronic frontier has altered dramatically the practice of education and research especially in the Humanities and social sciences with direct consequences for the institutional practice and the methodology of these disciplinary fields This book aims to explore the implications of these complex shifts for the practice of critical thinking      Michel Serres and the Crises of the Contemporary Rick Dolphijn, Joanna Hodge, David Webb, 2020-05-28 Michel Serres captures the urgencies of our time from the digital revolution to the ecological crisis to the future of the university the crises that code the world today are addressed in an accessible affirmative and remarkably original analysis in his thought It made him a philosophy superstar in France and he has begun to gather more and more readers in the Anglophone world This volume is the first to engage with the philosophy of Michel Serres not by writing about it but by writing with it This is done by expanding upon the urgent themes that Serres works on by furthering his materialism his emphasis on communication and information his focus on the senses and the role of mathematics in thought His famous concepts such as the parasite amis de vieillesse and the algorithm are applied in 21st century situations With contributions from an international and interdisciplinary team of authors this collection tackles the crises of today and affirms the contemporary relevance of Serres philosophy      Juan Davila Guy Brett, Roger Benjamin, Juan Davila, 2006 Juan Davila is an artist who believes in the possibility of effecting social change through art Born in Chile he moved to Australia in 1974 His art sets to counter indifference in the community and spark discourse on many issues in the international cultural and political landscape His work has commented on the Australian political system greed capitalism the oppression exerted by Western art history the representation of sexuality and the treatment of marginalised people This book features a selection of paintings installations and works from the early 1970 s to the early 2000 s and includes essays and written commentary on key works      Standpoints and Differences Karen Henwood, Christine Griffin, Ann Phoenix, 1998-09-14 This volume investigates a key area of theoretical interest within contemporary feminist and poststructuralist theory paying particular attention to feminist psychology Recognizing that feminist researchers have a long standing commitment to conducting research from feminist standpoints the contributors consider the tensions between this and the poststructuralist argument that research and emancipatory politics can flow from personal and political differences The volume considers questions and developments on giving voice and explores arguments and theoretical positions concerning power and subjectivity paying attention to how these inform research practice
