From Revolution to Revelation offers a new paradigm for Cultural Studies Tara Brabazon explores our understanding of our own past and the collective past we share with others through popular culture She investigates Generation X the post youth generation born between 1961 and 1981 and the popular cultural literacies that are the basis of this imagining community She looks at the ways in which popular culture offers a vehicle for memory providing the building blocks of identity the politics and passion of life captured in an unforgettable song an amazing nightclub or an unexpected goal in extra time For a fan the joy and exhilaration is enough but it is the task of cultural studies to understand why particular cultural forms survive the passage of time and space Brabazon argues with Lawrence Grossberg that Cultural Studies is the Generation X of the academic world She tracks its journey away from Marxism and subcultural theory and looks at its future In particular she explores the possibilities of popular memory studies in reclaiming and repairing the discipline of Cultural Studies making it as relevant and as revelatory as in its revolutionary past    The New York Times Book Review ,1994-04

Lean Out Tara Henley,2020-03-24 INSTANT NATIONAL BESTSELLER Travel to the land of Couldn t Be More Timely Margaret Atwood on Lean Out in the West End Phoenix What begins as one woman s critique of our culture of overwork and productivity ultimately becomes an investigation into our most urgent problems vast inequality loneliness economic precarity and isolation from the natural world Henley punctures the myths of the meritocracy in a way few writers have. This is an essential book for our time. Mandy Len Catron author of How to Fall in Love with Anyone A deeply personal and informed reflection on the modern world and why so many feel disillusioned by it. In 2016 journalist Tara Henley was at the top of her game working in Canadian media. She had traveled the world from Soweto to Bangkok and Borneo to Brooklyn interviewing authors and community leaders, politicians and Hollywood celebrities. But when she started getting chest pains at her desk in the newsroom none of that seemed to matter. The health crisis not cardiac it turned out but anxiety forced her to step off the media treadmill and examine her life and the stressful twenty first century world around her. Henley was not alone. North America was facing an epidemic of lifestyle related health problems. And yet the culture was continually celebrating the elite few who thrived in the always on work world those who perpetually leaned in. Henley realized that if we wanted innovative solutions to the wave of burnout and stress related illness it was time to talk to those who had leaned out. Part memoir part travelogue and part investigation Lean Out tracks Henley's journey from the heart of the connected city to the fringe communities that surround it. From early retirement enthusiasts in urban British Columbia to moneyless men in rural Ireland. Henley uncovers a parallel track in which everyday citizens are quietly dropping out of the mainstream and reclaiming their lives from overwork. Underlying these disparate movements is a rejection of consumerism a growing appetite for social contribution and a quest for meaningful connection in this era of extreme isolation and loneliness. As she connects the dots between anxiety and overwork Henley confronts the biggest issues of our time.

Capital, Class

& Technology in Contemporary American Culture Nick Heffernan, 2000-12-20

In the tradition of Mike Davis and Fredric Jameson Nick Heffernan engages in a series of meditations on capital class and technology in contemporary America. He turns to the stories we generate and tell ourselves via fiction film journalism theory to see how change is registered. By investigating a variety of texts he observes how structural change affects the way people organise their lives economically socially and culturally. Case studies include Ridley Scott's Blade Runner William Gibson's cyberspace trilogy Thomas Pynchon's The Crying of Lot 49 and Wim Wenders's Until the End of the World. Using the links between narrative cultural forms and the process of historical understanding he brings together debates that have so far been conducted largely within the separate domains of political economy social theory and cultural criticism to provide a compelling analysis of contemporary cultural change. By relocating postmodernism in the context of changing modes of capitalism Heffernan puts the question of class and class agency back at the centre of the critical agenda.
