Parenting Beliefs, Behaviors, and Parent-Child Relations Kenneth H. Rubin, Ock Boon Chung, 2013-09-05 The purpose of this book is to present a rather simple argument Parents thoughts about childrearing and the ways in which they interact with children to achieve particular parenting or developmental goals are culturally determined Within any culture children are shaped by the physical and social settings within which they live culturally regulated customs and childrearing practices and culturally based belief systems The psychological meaning attributed to any given social behavior is in large part a function of the ecological niche within which it is produced Clearly it is the case that there are some cultural universals All parents want their children to be healthy and to feel secure However healthy and unhealthy at least in the psychological sense of the term can have different meanings from culture to culture Official Gazette Philippines, 1986

Revolution Isobelle Barrett Meyering, 2022-02-01 When Australian women s liberationists challenged prevailing expectations of female domesticity they were accused of being anti mother and anti child Feminism and the Making of a Child Rights Revolution provides a much needed reassessment of this stereotype Drawing on extensive archival research and personal accounts it places feminists at the forefront of a new wave of children s rights activism that went beyond calls for basic protections for children instead demanding their liberation Historian Isobelle Barrett Meyering revisits this revolutionary approach and charts the debates it sparked within the women s movement Her examination of feminists ground breaking campaigns on major social issues of the 1970s from childcare to sex education to family violence also reveals women s concerted efforts to apply this ideal in their personal lives and to support children s own activism Feminism and the Making of a Child Rights Revolution sheds light on the movement s expansive vision for social change and its lasting impact on the way we view the rights of women and children Child Abuse and Neglect John T. Pardeck, 1989 Child abuse and neglect is recognized as one of the major social problems facing modern society today An increase in the theory and research into causes and treatment has resulted in the growth of practical knowledge derived from the fields of psychiatry psychology education sociology social work and related professions Reflecting a multi disciplinary approach this study presents the latest findings from these fields by exploring the issue of child abuse and neglect from a broad theoretical perspective Both micro and macro approaches are stressed in the work with particular emphasis on social factors related to child abuse and neglect characteristics of adults and families likely to abuse and neglect and emerging strategies of treatment including family therapy
