On Extinction How We Became Estranged From Nature:

On Extinction Melanie Challenger, 2021-03-16 Realizing the link between her own estrangement from nature and the cultural shifts that led to a dramatic rise in extinctions award winning writer Melanie Challenger travels in search of the stories behind these losses From an exploration of an abandoned mine in England to an Antarctic sea voyage to South Georgia s old whaling stations from a sojourn in South America to a stay among an Inuit community in Canada she uncovers species cultures and industries touched by extinction Accompanying her on this journey are the thoughts of anthropologists biologists and philosophers who have come before her Drawing on their words as well as firsthand witness and ancestral memory Challenger traces the mindset that led to our destructiveness and proposes a path of redemption rooted in our emotional responses This sobering yet illuminating book looks beyond natural devastation to examine why and what s next Alienation and Nature in Environmental Philosophy Simon Hailwood, 2015-08-21 This book explores interpretations of alienation from nature in relation to a broad range of environmental issues Imagining Extinction Ursula K.

Heise, 2016-08-10 We are currently facing the sixth mass extinction of species in the history of life on Earth biologists claim the first one caused by humans Heise argues that understanding these stories and symbols is indispensable for any effective advocacy on behalf of endangered species More than that she shows how biodiversity conservation even and especially in its scientific and legal dimensions is shaped by cultural assumptions about what is valuable in nature and what is not Why

Biodiversity Matters Nigel Dudley, 2023-12-01 All life on Earth has the right to exist but as we teeter on the verge of a sixth extinction this book discusses why biodiversity matters and why we should care if species go extinct We are witnessing the largest and fastest rate of extinction in the history of the planet While the concept of rights is a human one all plants and animals strive to survive and this book argues for their rights to continue doing so without being driven into premature extinction by human actions Acknowledging and describing the practical reasons for conserving biodiversity this book argues that these should not overshadow the compelling ethical reasons to care about the future of species other than our own However the issues are complex What do we do when faced with an immediate ethical choice where biodiversity rights animal rights human rights economic development and ecosystem survival all get mixed up together There are seldom hard and fast answers but thinking about and understanding a variety of points of view will help us make informed trade offs Drawing on his vast practical experience the author presents insightful perspectives and real world examples with the hope that this book will instigate a much needed rethink about why and how we practise conservation This book is essential reading for all those concerned with sustaining our planet and all who inhabit it in the face of climate breakdown biodiversity loss and ecological collapse Life Writing and the Southern Hemisphere Elleke Boehmer, Katherine Collins, 2024-11-14

Exploring lives lived written and narrated in and from the Global South the far South and the ultimate South Antarctica this book asks how life writing from southerly compass points impact both how we understand and read life narratives and ultimately how we perceive our planet Southern geographies histories and lives have often been overlooked and defined by northern perspectives Life Writing and the Southern Hemisphere redresses this North South alignment in its critical examination of life stories memoirs biographies and autobiographies from the southern hemisphere providing a countervailing and alternative perspective that will unsettle challenge and enrich the imaginative norms that inform life writing studies From Tierra del Fuego and Patagonia in South America through southern Africa to Australia and New Zealand and as far down as Antarctica this collection brings together writers and scholars in the oceanic humanities postcolonial Global South and polar studies and presents works on human animal and plant life captured in words music performance visual arts and photography Interdisciplinary and vast in its comparative range Life Writing and the Southern Hemisphere convenes a diversity of perspectives and positions that demonstrate that the south has rich internal knowledge sources of its own allowing us to better conceptualize the planet from below Kith Jay Griffiths, 2013-05-02 From Jay Griffiths the author of the award winning Wild comes a passionate polemic defence of childhood Her work isn't just good it's necessary Philip Pullman In Kith Jay Griffiths seeks to discover why we deny our children the freedoms of space time and the natural world Visiting communities as far apart as West Papua and the Arctic as well as the UK and delving into history philosophy language and literature she explores how children's affinity for nature is an essential and universal element of childhood It is a journey deep into the heart of what it means to be a child and it is central to all our experiences young and old An impassioned visionary plea to restore to our children the spirit of adventure freedom and closeness to nature that is their birthright We must hear it and act on it before it is too late Iain McGilchrist Jay Griffiths writes with such richness and mischief about the one thing that could truly save the world its children KT Tunstall Book Review Digest, 1996-11
