Teaching English Yogendra Butt, 2024-12-15 Teaching English Linguistics and Literature Combined explores the inextricable link between literature and language. Despite being treated as separate subjects in traditional Nigerian secondary schools, literature and English are deeply interconnected. This book highlights the need to merge these disciplines to enhance students' understanding and proficiency. We examine how literary teachers often focus on the socio-cultural, economic, and religious meanings of texts, while linguistic elements receive less attention. This imbalance can lead to students excelling in literary analysis but struggling with English language skills. Our book argues for a symbiotic relationship between literature and language, suggesting integrated teaching approaches to improve education and learning outcomes. Through practical suggestions, we aim to address the poor academic performance observed at secondary and tertiary levels in Nigeria. By fostering a comprehensive understanding of both literature and language, students can achieve greater proficiency and success.

Handbook of Research on K-12 Blended and Virtual Learning Through the i2Flex Classroom Model Avgerinou, Maria D., Pelonis, Peggy, 2021-03-05 Teaching models that focus on blended and virtual learning have become important during the past year and have become integral for the continuance of learning. The iFlex classroom model, a variation of blended learning, allows non-interactive teaching activities to take place without teachers' direct involvement, freeing up time for more meaningful teacher-student and student-student interactions. There is evidence that iFlex leads to increased student engagement and motivation, as well as better exploitation of teachers' and classroom time, leading to the development of higher-order cognitive skills, as well as study skills for students' future needs related to citizenship, college, and careers. The Handbook of Research on K-12 Blended and Virtual Learning Through the iFlex Classroom Model focuses not only on how to design, deliver, and evaluate courses but also on how to assess teacher performance in a blended i2Flex way at the K12 level. The book will discuss the implementation of the iFlex iSquareFlex, a non-traditional learning methodology which integrates internet-based delivery of content and instruction with faculty-guided student-independent learning in combination with face-to-face classroom instruction, aiming at developing higher-order cognitive skills within a flexible learning design framework. While highlighting new methods for improving the classroom and learning experience in addition to preparing students for higher education and careers, this publication is an essential reference source for pre-service and in-service teachers, researchers, administrators, educational technology developers, and students interested in how the i2Flex model was implemented in classrooms and the effects of this learning model.

Optimizing K-12 Education through Online and Blended Learning Ostashevski, Nathaniel, Howell, Jennifer, Cleveland-Innes, Martha, 2016-07-13 The integration of information and communication technologies in education is unavoidable as an increasing percentage of educators embrace modern technology. Others are faced with the decision to reevaluate their own pedagogical practices or become obsolete. To meet the needs of students, one must first define what stipulates a successful K-12 student.
