Researching Multilingually Bridget Goodman, Brian Seilstad, 2025-01-14 This book examines what researching multilingually means in practice and theory It is multinational and transnational in scope including the voices of both experienced and emerging scholars who reflect on the process of conducting analyzing and reporting multilingual research in various settings Together the chapters address issues including theorizing multilingualism and collaborative research with multilingual scholars and research participants navigating insider or outsider positioning with research participants making and accepting language choices among researchers and participants during research translating and interpreting multilingual data and confronting policy challenges of multilingual research design and reporting in English dominant contexts The book ties these processes to existing theories of multilingualism in research and proposes new ways of understanding best practices while also wrestling with challenges and at times failures in the research process For divorce who is responsible? Abdul Waheed, Divorce is considered to be the worst thing in the world whether it is of any religion or society because it breaks the house if there are children then the life of the children gets ruined but when there is no possibility of making someone then divorce is a It is a forced process Both a man and a woman can give divorce in Islam a woman has an open right to divorce It is better that at the time of marriage the girl and the boy should be shown to each other and if possible they should also have a conversation so that the things that arise later become clear to each other Although there is no prohibition of this in Islam we have to consider that society is like this It is very difficult to decide who is responsible for the divorce Because in this along with the beloved wife the girl s and boy s family also play a significant role If a person has children then before divorcing a person whether a man or a woman he must think about his children and think that he does not want to ruin their happiness for the sake of them This book is available on this subject Please read it If you have any more information please let me know Thank you Digital Technologies and Applications Saad Motahhir, Badre Bossoufi, Josep M.
