Screening the Public Sphere Saima Saeed, 2020-11-29 For centuries democracy and development have steered the imagination of governments, citizens, intelligentsia and policymakers alike. Democracy without free media is a contradiction while development without democracy is futile. Highlighting the power and significance of contemporary media, this book deconstructs news and news making on Indian television. In exploring the concepts of sense making and meaning generation, it examines how news and the dissemination of information and opinion influence the public sphere, participatory democracy, citizenship and civil society. Providing an original interpretation of the paradigmatic shifts in news content and newsroom practices, this book focuses on changing ownership patterns, increasing entertainmentization of news and the resultant developmental reportage deficit. At the same time, it confronts the uneasy and critical consequences of commercialization and rising sensationalism in news media. Finally, it discusses the role of Public Service Broadcasting, journalistic ethics, objectivity and the politics of language and ideology in the media today, pointing to the need for greater diversity of content on the one hand and an emphasis on public interest in media policy making on the other. Drawing upon comprehensive empirical data, the democracy media development relationship is demonstrated through critical analyses of the media's coverage of recent news events. This includes exhaustive content examination of news programmes on all major news channels of India, surveys with media experts and news professionals by way of questionnaires and interviews with the audience to gauge the impact of media content on their understanding of social, political and economic issues. This volume will be especially useful to those in journalism, media and communication studies as also to students of political science, sociology and economics.

Witchcraft Accusations from Central India Helen Macdonald, 2020-11-22 This book unravels the institutions surrounding witchcraft in the central Indian state of Chhattisgarh through theoretical and empirical research on witchcraft violence and modernity in contemporary times. The author pieces together fragments of stories gathered utilising ethnographic methods to examine the meanings associated with witches and witchcraft and how they connect with social relations gender notions of agency law media and the state The volume uses the metaphor of the shattered urn to tell the story of the accusations punishment rescue and the aftermath of the events of the trial of women accused of being witches It situates the onh or witch as a key elaborating symbol that orders behaviour to determine who the socially included and excluded are in communities Through the personal interviews and other ethnographic methods conducted over the course of many years the author delves into the stories and practices related to witchcraft its relations with modernity and the relationship between violence and ideological norms in society Insightful and detailed this book will be of great interest to academics and researchers of anthropology development studies sociology history violence gender studies tribal studies and psychology It will also be useful for readers in both historic and contemporary witchcraft practices as well as policy makers
