Medieval Germany, 1056 - 1273 Alfred Haverkamp,1990      Count and Bishop in Medieval Germany Benjamin Arnold,1991 In this examination of the functions of lordship in a medieval society Benjamin Arnold seeks answers to some of the most fundamental questions for the period of political and institutional history How did the lords maintain control over the people land and resources How was their rule sustained and justified Arnold chooses to analyze the Eichst tt region an area on the borders of three major German provinces Bavaria Franconia and Swabia The region was the geographical and political dimension within which succeeding bishops with great tenacity and inventiveness survived the threat of dominion by their secular neighbors the counts The bishops of Eichst tt were able to emerge with a durable territorial structure of their own which they succeeded in recasting between 1280 and 1320 into a credible and long lasting principality Modern ideas of political progress Arnold contends tend to be unfair to medieval institutions that have not left easily recognizable descendants He argues that it would be more prudent to observe in the territorial fragmentation of Germany not the triumph of chaos but the outcome of a reasonably orderly social and legal process that provided alternative institutions to those of a centralized or national monarchy      Debating medieval Europe Stephen Mossman,2025-06-24 Debating medieval Europe serves as an entry point for studying and teaching medieval history Rather than simply presenting foundational knowledge or introducing sources it provides the reader with frameworks for understanding the distinctive historiography of the period digging beneath the historical accounts provided by other textbooks to expose the contested foundations of apparently settled narratives This second volume addresses the central and later Middle Ages covering the period c 1050 c 1450 The chapters cover such topics as the papacy the Empire and the German lands the British Isles the Crusades and the Latin East and incorporates the very latest epidemiological research in its presentation of the Black Death It features a highly distinguished selection of medieval historians including Graham Loud Amy Livingstone and Len Scales      Europe in the High Middle Ages, 1150-1309 John Hine Mundy,1991 Provides a portrait of the social economic political and intellectual life in Latin Christendom from the tenth through twelfth centuries      The King's Two Maps Daniel Jay Birkholz,1999
