New Maladies Of The Soul:

New Maladies of the Soul Julia Kristeva, 2025-01-14 These days who still has a soul asks Julia Kristeva in this psychoanalytic exploration Drawing on her many years of experience as a practicing psychoanalyst Kristeva reveals to readers a new kind of patient symptomatic of an age of political upheaval mass mediated culture and the dramatic overhaul of familial and sexual mores New Maladies of the Soul poses a troubling question about the human subject in the West today Is the psychic space that we have traditionally known disappearing Kristeva finds that the psychoanalytic models of Freud and Lacan need to be reread in light of this new patient a product of the contemporary moral crisis of values resulting from a loss of ideology and a deterioration of belief By revisiting Freud and Lacan Kristeva offers the hope of a new psychoanalysis Each patient she contends suffers from a unique malady which must be targeted In the first half of the book Kristeva offers a series of detailed case studies that reinforce her provocative theoretical notions These case studies illustrate today's new maladies common psychiatric disturbances as they are manifested in today's patient Drawing on the work of the psychologist Helene Deutsch and the writer Germaine de Stael Kristeva turns her attention to women's experiences and contributions Delving into art literature autobiography and theories of language she continues with an exploration of cultural products ranging from the Bible to the work of Leonardo da Vinci Kristeva offers the hope that these maladies harbor new creative potential and new hope for the soul if we can comprehend their effect on the individual and collective experiences of our time

Reinventing the Soul Mari Ruti, 2006-08-17 Essential reading for scholars and students in critical theory psychoanalysis and gender studies How does the self care for itself in the posthumanist era What psychic processes might allow the postmodern subject to find meaning and value in its life Is it possible to delineate a theory of psychic potentiality that is compatible with poststructuralist models of fluid decentered and polyvalent subjectivity Reinventing the Soul offers a new perspective on what it means to be a human being and to strive in the world despite the wounding effects of the socialization process Drawing on the rich legacies of French poststructuralism and Lacanian psychoanalysis Ruti builds an affirmative alternative to the post Foucaultian tendency to envision subjectivity as a function of hegemonic systems of power She proposes that the subject's encounter with the world also necessarily activates the psyche's innovative potential By focusing on matters of creative agency imaginative empowerment inner metamorphosis and self actualization Ruti outlines some of the mechanisms by which the psyche manages not only to survive its lack alienation or suffering but also to transform its abjection into an existentially livable reality Central to Ruti's argument is the idea that human beings relate to the world in active rather than merely passive ways as dynamic creators of meaning rather than as powerless dupes of disciplinary power productively in the present The questions that feminism raised in the 1970s and 80s are still pertinent and are addressed in a number of original essays What does gender equality mean in the arts How can women TM s subjectivities be articulated or performed differently in art practices Can attention to gender enable us to engage with complex differences of race sexuality and class of age and generation Do we need new interpretative and conceptual models for writing about art Alexandra Kokoli TM s thoughtful and illuminating introduction reminds us that reframing is a risky but exciting business if it makes us ask these questions anew with attention to the politics and aesthetics of the present Rosemary Betterton Lancaster University
