Ngo Risk Management Manual:

Economics and Power in EU Chemicals Policy and Regulation Laura Maxim,2023-03-02 In this timely and insightful book Laura Maxim evaluates the use of socio economic analysis SEA in the regulation of potentially carcinogenic mutagenic and toxic chemicals Retracing the history of the use of cost benefit analysis in chemical risk policies this book presents contemporary discourse on the political success of SEA     Scaling up Nature-based Solutions to Tackle Water-related Climate Risks Insights from Mexico and the United Kingdom OECD,2021-04-20 This report provides an assessment of the use of and recommendations for scaling up Nature based Solutions to address water related climate risks

Building Resilience to Climate Shocks in Ethiopia Claudia Ringler,2019-05-30 Ethiopia has made consistent progress in improving development indicators but vulnerability to extreme weather events is a continuing concern especially for people reliant on agriculture for their livelihoods The 2015 16 El Niño event caused both a severe drought and flooding which highlighted the remarkable improvements in the country's resilience and the remaining challenges in ensuring that everyone bounces back relatively quickly from adverse climatic shocks Given the links between climate change cyclical droughts and poverty and the high cost of emergency humanitarian assistance the Government of Ethiopia and development partners decided to review the country's resilience programming and identify opportunities and challenges to building greater resilience into the agricultural system This work included three components a review of the literature and government programs on resilience in Ethiopia key informant interviews in several regions of the country and quantitative crop modeling and economywide analyses to inform resilience programming     NGO Management Sushil Mahajan,2008     Agriculture and Ecosystem Resilience in Sub Saharan Africa Yazidhi Bamutaze, Samuel Kyamanywa, Bal Ram Singh, Gorettie Nabanoga, Rattan Lal,2019-05-22 This volume discusses emerging contexts of agricultural and ecosystem resilience in Sub Saharan Africa as well as contemporary technological advances that have influenced African livelihoods In six sections the book addresses the sustainable development goals to mitigate the negative impacts on agricultural productivity brought about by climate change in Africa Some of the challenges assessed include soil degradation land use changes natural resource mismanagement declining crop productivity and economic stagnation This book will be of interest to researchers NGOs and development organizations Section 1 focuses on climate risk management in tropical Africa Section 2 addresses the water ecosystem agriculture nexus and identifies the best strategies for sustainable water use Section 3 introduces Information

Communication Technology ICT and how it can be used for ecosystem and human resilience to improve quality of life in communities Section 4 discusses the science and policies of transformative agriculture including challenges facing crop production and management Section 5 addresses landscape processes human security and governance of agro ecosystems Section 6 concludes the book with chapters uniquely covering the gender dynamics of agricultural ecosystem and livelihood resilience     Securing sustainable small-scale fisheries: sharing good practices from around the world Food and

Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-02-26 This document includes eight studies showcasing good practices in support of sustainable small scale fisheries FAO commissioned these studies aiming to share experiences and promote the implementation of the Voluntary Guidelines for Securing Sustainable Small Scale Fisheries in the Context of Food Security and Poverty Eradication SSF Guidelines The case studies were also intended to promote participatory approaches in line with the SSF Guidelines principles and to promote increased interaction between research and fishing communities including the use of traditional knowledge and participatory research It is hoped that the case studies will inform policy and policy processes and in this way promote sustainable small scale fisheries according to the SSF Guidelines and the human rights based approach to development HRBA The case studies constitute a rich selection of experiences and are diverse not only with regard to their geographical setting but also in scope and approach They span from looking at one specific tool for sharing experiences the fisheries learning exchanges methodology in Madagascar and Mozambique or examining the enabling environment in a specific thematic area disaster risks in Bangladesh to regional policy formulation on small scale fisheries the SSF Guidelines protocol for Caribbean policies and reflection on how to use the SSF Guidelines in participatory processes the Myanmar step by step approach to discussions with small scale fisheries communities A few of the papers look at co management in some cases combining fisheries management and social development Senegal Uruguay and Nepal with one focusing on the role of small scale fisheries and community organizations India Generally the case studies refer to HRBA but perhaps because many of the activities have taken place in the past it seems that HRBA has rarely been consciously and explicitly implemented Still the case studies bear witness to a number of experiences and practices that are clearly steps in the right direction Key good practices emerging from the studies refer to among other things holistic approaches to co management and social responsibility broad engagement inclusiveness and partnerships the power of communication and gender equality and the role of women As more experience is gained our knowledge of how to go about implementing the SSF Guidelines will improve and nurture new and continued initiatives For the present and the future efforts should be made to apply HRBA while continuing to share experiences and good practices showing how to do so when implementing the SSF Guidelines
